Paddling Tutor Is Reinstated By Superiors

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — The Hillsdale Board of Education voted Tuesday night to reinstate a 7th grade English teacher who had been suspended for allegedly paddling a 15-year-old Hayesville student.

The board had suspended Theodore Potts, 28, Monday night pending an investigation of the paddling of Lester Bassler last Friday. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bassler, told the board their son was paddled so hard that he had to have medical care.

A delegation of 32 parents attended an open hearing on the paddling incident presided over by Ashland County Prosecutor James Gossett. Potts and the Basslers were represented by counsel.

Following the hearing the school board held a three-hour closed meeting at which the reinstatement decision was reached. It recommended careful regulation of physical discipline by teachers in the future.

No formal charge has been filed against Potts, who testified at the hearing that he paddled the boy because he "had lied to me and cheated me."

Potts did not elaborate on the accusation, but said "Lester is the only one in my classes who has refused to do his work."

1962 Fund Goal Set at $34,744

The Pickaway County Community Fund Budget Commission, meeting in quarterly session last night, recommended a goal of $34,744 for the coming yearly campaign.

The upcoming goal represents an increase of $2,299 over the designated amount for last year's campaign. Increased activities and functions by the six local agencies benefitting from the fund were listed as reasons for the requested boost.

Members of the budget commission, in studying the fund request proposals, said they feel the increase is needed and justified due to the agencies' expanded programs.

Benefitted by the Community Fund are the local chapter of the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Youth Canteen and the Well-Child Clinic.

THE Red Cross request was for $16,144 an increase of $1,349 over last year. Mrs. Roloff Wolford, chapter secretary, said the boost was due to enlarged facilities now

Laos Reds Already Fading As U.S. Beefs Up Thailand

U.S. Strength May Pep Laos Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has told members of Congress he believes the U.S. show of military strength in Thailand may speed lagging negotiations to form a coalition government in Laos.

Members who were briefed at a White House session Tuesday said the President and his advisers feel the troop buildup in Thailand—which they said is likely to go beyond the 5,000-man total publicly announced—is bringing Gen. Phoumi Nosavan around to the idea of negotiating.

Phoumi, reputed Laoist strongman in the government of pro-Western Premier Boun Oum, has resisted U.S. pressure to join in a coalition regime. He was said to have given indications since the Thailand buildup that he now is ready to talk about taking part in a neutral government.

Kennedy was represented as pleased that neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, who has tried to act as a buffer between Boun Oum and Pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong, is returning to Laos from Paris.

In response to questions put by Republican conferees, Kennedy is said to have reported that Phouma is committed not to agree to any settlement which would let Communists take over key defense and interior posts in any coalition government.

Kennedy made it clear at the conference—held in advance of the latest U.S.-Soviet agreement to the necessity for an effective Laoist cease-fire—that while he considered it remote, he was not ruling out the possibility that U.S. troops might have to go into Laos.

This obviously will not happen if the Soviets clamp down on the Communist Pathet Lao forces. But members of Congress said it could materialize if there are dramatic adverse developments.

Those who attended the briefing said the President felt that the display of strength should be sufficient to demonstrate that the United States does not intend to permit the whole Southeast Asia area to be overrun by the Communists.

The President and his advisers were represented as being just a little short of disgusted with the performance of U.S.-trained Laoist troops who fled through the Laoist border town of Houei Sai into Thailand without waiting for any contact with Communist Pathet Lao.

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States has drawn two lines through the jungles, swamps and rugged mountains of politically explosive Southeast Asia.

One line is on the frontier of South Viet Nam. The other is on the frontier of Thailand.

There is a big gap between these lines, and they don't look too defensible. But the United States seemingly has little choice but to defend them if the advance of Communist forces is to be stopped in Southeast Asia at this late stage.

The lines have one slim factor in their favor. The areas behind them are run by anti-Communist governments that are still pro-Western.

Medics Urged To Take Lead In Health Care

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Labor unions, industry, local and federal governments are "bartering over services for political purposes," Ohio's physicians were told today.

Calling for action in his first speech as president of the Ohio State Medical Association, Dr. George J. Hamwi of Columbus urged action to demonstrate "that we are more capable than any other group of providing optimum medical care for all American people."

He said the people of the United States are now receiving as good or better care than people in any other country. "These comparisons of the quality of medical care include those countries which have had governmental control of medicine for many years," Dr. Hamwi continued, "and our nation suffers not one whit in the comparison."

Yet there is no doubt that medical care in this country can be improved, he told delegates to the annual state meeting.

"Since health care is now considered within the province of a number of social groups, it behooves us to take active, aggressive leadership in planning for the health needs of our communities and the nation."

corridor. But there are signs the U.S. government today regards Laos as indefensible.

For a year the United States has been trying to settle for a neutral coalition government in Laos. With two-thirds of the country overrun by pro-Communist forces, any such coalition will be heavily weighted in favor of the Communists. That seems to make a pro-Communist Laos, almost inevitable eventually.

Jet Spearhead Lands Ahead Of Marines

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A dozen U.S. Air Force jets flew into Bangkok today as the spearhead of a new U.S. Southeast Asian command to help defend Thailand from any Communist thrust from Laos.

As the swift Super Sabres landed, U.S. military sources reported that Laoist troops had moved back into Houei Sai, the Laoist border village they reportedly abandoned last Friday before a Communist offensive.

American sources said the main body of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and its North Vietnamese supporters apparently had faded back 50 miles from Houei Sai. This force was reported at Vien Phou Kha, 40 miles south of Nam Tha, the provincial capital of northwest Laos overrun nearly two weeks ago at the start of the Red drive in northern Laos.

About 300 Laoist troops who fled across the Mekong River into Thailand, moved back into Houei Sai and set up a defense perimeter 10 miles outside the town, authoritative sources said.

The first U.S. F100 jet Super Sabres which arrived were from the 13th Air Force Squadron in the Philippines. They can fly 1,000 miles an hour and pack a lethal load of explosives.

Expected later were eight more F100s and a squadron of A4D Skyhawks, slower but able to hit hard with a load of 6,000 pounds of bombs.

They were to be followed at dawn Thursday (about 5 p.m. EST Wednesday) by about 1,800 combat Marines to be landed at a Thai naval base south of Bangkok from ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Gulf of Siam.

Military sources said C130 transport planes would be flown into Bangkok's Don Muang Airport to airlift the Marines to Thailand's northeast border with Laos.

The Pentagon announced in Washington that 1,200 other Army troops would be sent to Thailand from the Pacific area. With 1,000 Army combat men already here after recent SEATO maneuvers, they will bring the total American force bolstering Thailand's defenses to about 5,000 men.

The Marines were waiting just off Thailand's coast. Helicopters are expected to begin landing them Thursday at the Thai naval base at Sataheep.

The initial U.S. air reinforcement reportedly will total about 45 jets in all. Although they can

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The

Mahoning County treasurer has been enjoined from collecting real estate taxes for the last half of 1961 until a tax rate revision is made.

Common Pleas Court Judge John W. Ford granted the delay Monday in ruling on a taxpayer's suit that county officials failed to reduce millage rates to match increased valuation and overcharged taxpayers $2.5 million.

Judge Ford took no action on the part of the suit dealing with the overcharge. He did, however, rule that 1961 last-half taxes aren't due until the tax rate for special levies is reduced in proportion to recent increased valuation.

This means second-half taxes will be lower than the first half taxes.

No Action Is Taken on New Gas Rate

No legislative action was taken by City Council last night on a new rate ordinance proposed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. for Circleville.

The lawmakers discussed the measure at length, but made no move toward legislation on the matter. An informal meeting has been scheduled Thursday night for further discussion on the new rate proposal.

The Gas Co. ordinance was presented for Council study on May 1. A Council committee composed of Dudley Carpenter, John Jenkins, Robert Hedges and Charles Kirkpatrick met later for a study of the proposal, but limited action to listing figures and making comparison with the old ordinance rates.

The current rate ordinance expired May 16. However, Douglas Cotterman, local Ohio Fuel office manager, said the old rate schedule would remain in effect here until a new program is resolved.

ACCORDING to Carpenter, the new rate schedule would require city gas consumers to pay an additional total increase of about $74,000 for the first year it would be in force. He said this apparently would mean a total increase of about $15 for each consumer for the year.

Cotterman has pointed out that the highest increase would come in summer months when gas consumption is lowest. The rate increase would be reflected proportionately lower as gas use climbed during colder periods.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A dozen U.S. Air Force jets flew into Bangkok today as the spearhead of a new U.S. Southeast Asian command to help defend Thailand from any Communist thrust from Laos.

As the swift Super Sabres landed, U.S. military sources reported that Laotian troops had moved back into Houei Sai, the Laotian border village they reportedly abandoned last Friday before a Communist offensive.

American sources said the main body of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and its North Vietnamese supporters apparently had faded back 50 miles from Houei Sai. This force was reported at Vien Phou Kha, 40 miles south of Nam Tha, the provincial capital of northwestern Laos overrun nearly two weeks ago at the start of the Red drive in northern Laos.

About 300 Laotian troops who fled across the Mekong River into Thailand, moved back into Houei Sai and set up a defense perimeter 10 miles outside the town, authoritative sources said.

The first U.S. F100 jet Super Sabres which arrived were from the 13th Air Force Squadron in the Philippines. They can fly 1,000 miles an hour and pack a lethal load of explosives.

Expected later were eight more F100s and a squadron of A4D Skyhawks, slower but able to hit hard with a load of 6,000 pounds of bombs.

They were to be followed at dawn Thursday (about 5 p.m. EST Wednesday) by about 1,800 combat Marines to be landed at a Thai naval base south of Bangkok from ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Gulf of Siam.

Military sources said C130 transport planes would be flown into Bangkok's Don Muang Airport to airlift the Marines to Thailand's northeast border with Laos.

The Pentagon announced in Washington that 1,200 other Army troops would be sent to Thailand from the Pacific area. With 1,000 Army combat men already here, they will bring the total American force bolstering Thailand's defenses to about 5,000 men.

The Marines were waiting just off Thailand's coast. Helicopters are expected to begin landing them Thursday at the Thai naval base at Sataheep.

The initial U.S. air reinforcement reportedly will total about 45 jets in all. Although they can (Continued on Page 2)

Salan Proudly Admits Action

PARIS (AP) — Ex-Gen. Raoul Salan, once France's most decorated soldier, proudly admitted at his treason trial today that he is chief of the European Secret Army Organization, which violently opposes Algerian independence.

"My responsibility is complete," Salan declared in a clipped voice as he stood before a high military tribunal empowered to impose the death sentence.

"I am not the chief of a gang, but a French general representing the victorious army and not the vanquished army."

Salan arose in the prisoner's box to read a 24-page statement. His attorneys summoned more than a score of witnesses for his defense against charges of subversion and armed insurrection.

Laos Offers Conqueror Few Riches, But Reds See It as Bridge to Food

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Laos, the cold war's current flash point, offers a conqueror few riches. But to food-short Communists of China and North Viet Nam, the Kansas-sized jungle kingdom is a bridge to the fertile rice fields of Southeast Asia.

Romantically labeled "land of the million elephants and the white parasol," Laos is slightly more than 90,000 square miles of landlocked jungle and mountains from which its 2 million to 3 million inhabitants draw a meager existence.

But for the Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists, control of Laos could open the road to the rice of Burma, Thailand, Cambodia, and South Viet Nam, which share Laos' borders.

Pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels already control Laos' eastern border with South Viet Nam, and North Vietnamese Communists have been pouring across it to wage war on the pro-Western Saigon government. The United States fears the Reds have similar plans along the eastern border.

But for a few Western innovators, not all welcomed, Laos is unchanged from centuries ago. There are no railroads and only 3,500 miles of roads. Most travel is by plane, which few Laotians can afford, or by the Mekong River, which meanders along the western edge of the kingdom.

Industry is negligible. Educational facilities, other than Buddhist schools, are in pathetically short supply. What wealth is accumulated is usually lavished on religious festivals. While the United States was pumping $25 million in economic aid into Laos in 1960, the government spent $500,000 on cremation ceremonies for King Sisavang Vong, who died 18 months before.

Most Laotians are farmers, usually rice growers, who seek from their toil only enough to subsist on with a little extra for bartering. They are gentle and courteous and lead a slow-paced life that on the average does not exceed 40 years. More than 80 per cent are illiterate. They practice a form of Buddhism widely mixed with spirit worship.

American Marines landing in Thailand today will find a country of golden temple bells, elephants, great rain forests of teak and rosewood, and a people who make friendliness a national way of life. It will be hot in the kingdom of ancient Siam. Soon it will be very wet.

The monsoon rains begin this month and before they are over in September will have spilled some 50 to 60 inches over much of a country larger than the state of California.

The main attraction for rest and recreation, of course, will be the sophisticated capital city of Bangkok, buzzing with activity and night life. Its ancient temples have long golden spikes on the pagoda roofs, sharpened to frighten the evil spirits away.

Small bells attached to the spires tinkle in the wind.

Bangkok is a city of contrasts with a teeming population living on river boats that bring fresh vegetables and flowers to market each day.

The area of the northeast along the Mekong River border with endangered Laos is a vastly different region known as the Korat Plateau where 9 million of Thailand's 24 million people live.

The plateau is dry, with no more than 30 inches of rain per year, and its people are poor. They raise scrawny herds of cattle and hogs, which are sold in Bangkok and, in good years, as far away as Malaya.

Farther north along the Mekong, the country sharply differs from the Korat plateau. There are big trees, elephants, elephant grass, and areas of the prized teakwood.

Council Approves First Step for New Sewer Plan

A resolution authorizing the city service director to go ahead with plans for a storm sewer in a northern section of Circleville was a major piece of legislation enacted last night by City Council.

The measure amounted to an OK for Service Director Ronald Sharrett to enter into a contract with the Burgess & Niple Engineering firm to prepare necessary plans, specifications and cost estimates for the job. The proposed sewer area included the P-A-T Subdivision, the David Blue Addition Subdivision and the Watt Land Acres Subdivision adjacent to these territories.

Both Mayor Richard Penn and Councilman Dudley Carpenter agreed that an adequate storm sewer is needed there. Several drainage complaints by property owners of the area have been lodged with Council at previous meetings.

In the interests of sound planning, Mayor Penn said it would be wise to consider installation now. Carpenter, in agreement with the Mayor, said postponing the matter will not help the current drainage situation in the area.

ALL SIX Councilmen present voted in favor of the measure. Dr. Robert Smith was absent.

In other legislation, the solons passed six ordinances and held another to second reading. Enacted were:

An ordinance authorizing the City Board of Public Utilities to enter into a contract with the South Central Rural Electric Cooperative to provide necessary electric power for operation of the City Waterworks located west of the Scioto River. The move followed an agreement for an exchange of territory involving South Central and the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., completed several days ago.

An ordinance authorizing the mayor to grant an easement to South Central Rural Electric for the placement of a utility pole on real estate recently purchased by the city from the C. F. Repligle Co. The land will house facilities for Circleville's new Waterworks Improvement project.

An ordinance authorizing the investment of city funds which will not be required to be used for a period of six months. The money involved is from the fund provided by the Waterworks Improvement project.

An ordinance transferring $41,000 from the Waterworks Operating fund to the Waterworks Mortgage Revenue Bond Retirement fund. The action was a normal move to place the money in the properly designated fund.

An ordinance authorizing the transfer of $200 to the Building, Repair and Maintenance fund for remodeling of a room in the basement of City Hall. The room will be used by parking meter repairman Nolan Dunkle. In turn, the repairman's office will be used as quarters for Police Chief Robert Temple and Safety Director Miller Fissell.

An ordinance transferring $100 to the Civil Defense fund to meet current expenses. A portion of the money also will be used by the Civil Defense unit to conduct a Field Training program scheduled for the near future. The county also has earmarked $100 for the training project.

An ordinance requesting transfer of $253 for payment of a telephone being used by the Health Department was held to second reading.

Another Ag Aide Fired in Estes Scandal

FBI Investigation Reveals Phone Bids Private Taxis Paid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate pumped more juice into its investigation of the cracking Billie Sol Estes case today as another government aide—James T. Ralph—was fired for his connections with the free-wheeling financier.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, himself bombarded by Republican demands that he resign, dismissed Ralph Tuesday, saying an FBI investigation showed that Estes had paid some of Ralph's telephone bills.

Ralph, a Kennedy administration appointee stepped down last February as an assistant secretary of agriculture to train as an agriculture attaché in the Philippines. He said his firing was unjustified and came as a complete surprise. He said he planned to issue a statement later.

In his year as assistant secretary, Ralph was in charge of the department's crop-control, price-support and grain-storage programs.

Estes was one of Texas' biggest operators in cotton and grain storage.

Today, the Senate Investigations subcommittee put into high gear its probe of Estes, who built a business empire on government farm programs and on "buy now, pay later" credit.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the subcommittee, disclosed he had subpoenaed Estes for questioning about alleged influence deals with government officials.

He also announced he was throwing "a dozen more investigators, maybe more," into the widening investigation.

The Senate group expects to begin hearings late this month. Estes has been indicted on federal and state fraud charges. His relationships with Congress members and government officials are under scrutiny by two congressional investigating groups and four grand juries. He has declared himself a bankrupt.

Ralph, 36, a former Tennessee farm boy, is the second Agriculture Department official to be fired in the Estes case. A third resigned.

The highest ranking official to be hit by the fast-moving, politically charged storm was Assistant Secretary of Labor Jerry R. Holleman, who resigned last Friday after disclosing he had accepted a gift of $1,000 from fellow Texan and Democrat Estes.

Ralph has been under investigation by the FBI since his name first cropped up in testimony in Texas about Estes' gifts of clothing to government officials.

Ralph denied before the Texas Court of Inquiry that he received any clothing from Estes. He also denied that Estes received any favors from the Agriculture Department.

Three salesmen of Dallas' Nieman-Marcus men's shop testified Ralph had been fitted with two expensive suits and two pairs of shoes. The suits, without the customary labels on the inside pocket, were sent to Estes at a Washington hotel later, they said, and the shoes were delivered to Estes at the Dallas hotel where both Estes and Ralph were staying.

Two Burglaries Probed by Local Police

Circleville Police today were investigating burglaries committed last night at local establishments. An undetermined amount of cash and checks was taken from the Elks Home, 215 N. Court St. when a safe was forced. The burglars entered the lodge through a window on the south side of the building.

Investigating officers are Sergeant Turney Ross and Patrolman William Goff from the local department and a representative from the Bureau of Criminal Investigation in London.

The Hill Implement Company, 123 E. Franklin St., was also burglarized. Admittance was gained by forcing a window.

An undetermined amount of money was taken from the implement firm.

Stock Prices Push Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed its advance into the third straight day but on a more modest scale early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .80 to 242.30, with industrials up .70, rails up .20 and utilities up 1.00.

Brokers said they considered the relatively small forward move to be a normal hesitation after two sessions of sharp gains.

Gains of key stocks ranged from fractions to a point or so. There was a large number of small losers.

Steels, aircrafts, oils and airlines held to the upside. Motors, utilities, chemicals and rails were mixed. Nonferrous metals were off.

Idle Pay Claims Still Declining

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Steady decline in the number of continuing claims for unemployment compensation was noted today in a report of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for the week ended May 12.

Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more totaled 73,396 in the week, down from the 85,674 of the previous week. The average number of such claims on file each week in May of last year was 155,605.

New claims filed in the week totaled 12,342, down from the 13,338 of the previous week. There was an average of 15,084 such claims filed each week of May last year.

Literacy Bill Laid to Rest In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's voter literacy test bill has been laid to rest for this session, talked to death by Southern senators.

In its wake, civil rights advocates have promised another fight next session to change the Senate rules to make it easier to break filibusters.

After twice refusing to choke off debate—and thus force an end to Southern speeches against the measure—the Senate voted 49-24 last Tuesday to put the literacy bill aside and proceed to other legislation.

This wrapped up a victory for Southern foes of the measure. They had successfully staved off efforts to bring it to a vote ever since it was called up by Democratic and Republican leaders on April 24.

The measure would have exempted anyone with a sixth-grade education from passing a state literacy test to qualify to vote in congressional and presidential elections.

Its supporters said the bill was aimed at discrimination against Negroes by election registrars in about 100 Southern counties. Dixie senators denounced it as an unconstitutional infringement on states' rights to determine voter qualifications.

American officials said there were no plans so far to send U.S. troops into Red-infested Laos. But the Kennedy administration clearly hoped the military buildup here would dissuade the pro-Communist Pathet Lao from overrunning the rest of the kingdom.

There was hope in Washington that the Soviet Union would bring pressure on the Pathet Lao chieftain, Prince Souphanouvong, to abandon his military drive and return to negotiations for a political settlement setting up a neutral coalition government for Laos.

The United States and the Soviet Union announced agreement in Washington for the need of an effective cease-fire and a peaceful political settlement in Laos. The announcement, following a meeting of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, did not specify whether Laotian pro-Red forces would return to the old cease-fire line in effect before the recent Communist sweep.

Even before announcement of the U.S. landings requested by Thai Premier Sarit Thanarat, there were signs the Pathet Lao in northwest Laos was beginning to pull back from Thailand's border.

The Royal Laotian government said in a communique from Vientiane that six pro-Red battalions had withdrawn from the border area around Houei Sai toward the Red Chinese frontier.

The banquet and group luncheon waiters have been demanding an automatic 12 per cent tip on the hotel's receipts for each serving. Most tips at the Waldorf-Astoria are handled this way, but some organizations do not arrange for automatic tips and the waiters must pass a plate.

tically no telephones, hardly any roads. The people, except for a few hardy mountain tribesmen, are gentle, fun-loving and easy-going.

The last thing they want to do is fight. That is why they break and run when better disciplined pro-Communist guerrillas launch the smallest of offensives.

The people of South Viet Nam are as fun-loving and easygoing as their neighbors. They take their three-hour siestas, too, war or no war. They live in the tropics, so they have to.

American military advisers say the Viet Name, who knew no English and hadn't handled a modern military weapon until a few years ago, are handling both with commendable ability today.

The United States got into the tangle in Southeast Asia the way it got into many East-West tangles.

Communism is always probing for weak spots. Southeast Asia was a weak spot.

The West, lacking the relatively single-minded direction and control that Communist powers exercise, found itself on the defensive. It reacted as it has in the past, late.

The United States faces staggering physical problems, such as the terrain and lack of communications.

Most Southeast Asian nations are newly independent and jealous of sovereign rights. The U.S. role there is still technically advisory.

The United States has put $2.3 billion into South Viet Nam in the last seven years under these conditions. And the strength of the pro-Communist forces has soared from 5,000 to 25,000 in the last two years, by U.S. estimate.

The question the United States has to solve is how to deal with a sovereign, independent ally and still get a job done.

There is a growing feeling on the scene that if the United States finds the answer to that question, it can still salvage what is left of Southeast Asia.

Two Burglaries Probed by Local Police

Circleville Police today were investigating burglaries committed last night at local establishments. An undetermined amount of cash and checks was taken from the Elks Home, 215 N. Court St. when a safe was forced. The burglars entered the lodge through a window on the south side of the building.

Investigating officers are Sergeant Turney Ross and Patrolman William Goff from the local department and a representative from the Bureau of Criminal Investigation in London.

The Hill Implement Company, 123 E. Franklin St., was also burglarized. Admittance was gained by forcing a window.

An undetermined amount of money was taken from the implement firm.

Stock Prices Push Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed its advance into the third straight day but on a more modest scale early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .80 to 242.30, with industrials up .70, rails up .20 and utilities up 1.00.

Brokers said they considered the relatively small forward move to be a normal hesitation after two sessions of sharp gains.

Gains of key stocks ranged from fractions to a point or so. There was a large number of small losers.

Steels, aircrafts, oils and airlines held to the upside. Motors, utilities, chemicals and rails were mixed. Nonferrous metals were off.

Idle Pay Claims Still Declining

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Steady decline in the number of continuing claims for unemployment compensation was noted today in a report of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for the week ended May 12.

Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more totaled 73,396 in the week, down from the 85,674 of the previous week. The average number of such claims on file each week in May of last year was 155,605.

New claims filed in the week totaled 12,342, down from the 13,338 of the previous week. There was an average of 15,084 such claims filed each week of May last year.

In the Estes case or Tower's telegram, gave Freeman an indirect vote of confidence. He assigned Freeman to substitute for him as a speaker before the World Food Forum. Kennedy sent the organization a message that "I could have found no one of stronger conviction or greater dedication to the national interest to take my place tonight than Secretary Freeman."

Miss Mary K. Jones, 51, a secretary in the Agriculture Department, told the Washington Evening Star she did not know why she was whisked from her office to a psychiatric ward.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., had charged in a Senate speech that she was "railroaded for refusing to cooperate in covering up corruption in the agency" and held 12 days before being pronounced mentally sound. Freeman called Williams' charges preposterous.

Literacy Bill Laid to Rest In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's voter literacy test bill has been laid to rest for this session, talked to death by Southern senators.

In its wake, civil rights advocates have promised another fight next session to change the Senate rules to make it easier to break filibusters.

After twice refusing to choke off debate—and thus force an end to Southern speeches against the measure—the Senate voted 49-34 last Tuesday to put the literacy bill aside and proceed to other legislation.

This wrapped up a victory for Southern foes of the measure. They had successfully staved off efforts to bring it to a vote ever since it was called up by Democratic and Republican leaders on April 24.

The measure would have exempted anyone with a sixth-grade education from passing a state literacy test to qualify to vote in congressional and presidential elections.

Its supporters said the bill was aimed at discrimination against Negroes by election registrars in about 100 Southern counties. Dixie senators denounced it as an unconstitutional infringement on states' rights to determine voter qualifications.

Australian Chieftain Plans Parleys in U.S.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies told the House of Representatives today he will visit Washington and London next month to confer with President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Menzies said he would discuss the situation in Southeast Asia, the Dutch-Indonesian dispute over West New Guinea and likely effects on Australia of British membership in the European Common Market.

$50-a-Plate Buyers Serve Themselves in Luxury Hotel

NEW YORK (AP)—Hundreds of women who had paid up to $50 a plate for charity organization affairs toted their own food in cafeteria-style "chow lines" at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Some of the 1,600 registered guests carried their own luggage to and from their rooms.

In the Empire Room, women draped their mink stoles over the backs of chairs and filed into the kitchen to scare up what fare they could.

Dirty dishes piled higher and higher in the kitchens servicing the hotel's 10 restaurants.

And so it went for thousands of guests and diners as 170 waiters and more than 200 other employees of the hotel staged a wildcat strike Tuesday.

Service was somewhat less than de luxe for Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and 1,200 other persons Tuesday night at a banquet of the French Institute of New York City in the grand ballroom.

They were served by an unusual crew of waiters—assistant managers, girl stenographers and clerks hastily recruited in the Waldorf-Astoria and other Hilton hotel nearby.

The soup course was omitted for fear the novice waiters would spill it in the diners' laps.

But the diners cheered the substitute waiters and waitresses as they went about spreading the bounty.

Several of the restaurants in the 42-story hotel were closed, including the Empire Room—where famous stars entertain.

Most of the guest room service was suspended. Some of the elevators were run by substitutes. Other services also were curtailed by the walkout of hundreds of bellboys, doormen, cooks, chambermaids, elevator operators and dishwashers in addition to the waiters.

The labor dispute, which began over the system of tipping at banquets and other group functions, was placed in the hands of the impartial arbitrator of the city's hotel industry. The arbitrator, Harold Gray, said no decision could be expected for several days.

The banquet and group luncheon waiters have been demanding an automatic 12 per cent tip on the hotel's receipts for each serving. Most tips at the Waldorf-Astoria are handled this way, but some organizations do not arrange for automatic tips and the waiters must pass a plate.

tically no telephones, hardly any roads. The people, except for a few hardy mountain tribesmen, are gentle, fun-loving and easy-going.

The last thing they want to do is fight. That is why they break and run when better disciplined pro-Communist guerrillas launch the smallest of offensives.

The people of South Viet Nam are as fun-loving and easygoing as their neighbors. They take their three-hour siestas, too, war or no war. They live in the tropics, so they have to.

American military advisers say the Viet Namese, who knew no English and hadn't handled a modern military weapon until a few years ago, are handling both with commendable ability today.

The United States got into the tangle in Southeast Asia the way it got into many East-West tangles.

Communism is always probing for weak spots. Southeast Asia was a weak spot.

The West, lacking the relatively single-minded direction and control that Communist powers exercise, found itself on the defensive. It reacted as it has in the past, late.

The United States faces staggering physical problems, such as the terrain and lack of communications.

Most Southeast Asian nations are newly independent and jealous of sovereign rights. The U.S. role there is still technically advisory.

The United States has put $2.5 billion into South Viet Nam in the last seven years under these conditions. And the strength of the pro-Communist forces has soared from 5,000 to 25,000 in the last two years, by U.S. estimate.

The question the United States has to solve is how to deal with a sovereign, independent ally and still get a job done.

There is a growing feeling on the scene that if the United States finds the answer to that question, it can still salvage what is left of Southeast Asia.

Canada and Red Trade

An official release from Ottawa stating that direction of Canadian exports in 1961 "altered somewhat" can be chalked up as the understatement of the year. Some of the new twists revealed by the recent release of details are almost bizarre.

Trade with Commonwealth countries is down, quite sharply down if Britain is excluded. Trade with communist countries has increased to a level that provides the major feature of the year. Exports to the Soviet Union are about three times those of 1960. Sales to Cuba nearly equal those of 1960. Sales to Cuba nearly equal those to all the islands and are far ahead of Canada's trade with Japan.

Communist China has now established itself as Canada's fifth best customer, pushing Australia to sixth place and replacing India in the leading 10 countries.

Exports to Red China jumped from $8.7 million to $122.8 million.

With the exception of Cuban exports, which covered some 350 different commodities, the answer to this fantastic picture of trade behind the iron curtain lies in Canada's vigorous effort to sell wheat and barley on credit.

The Canadian minister of agriculture has now voiced a strong appeal to western farmers to seed more acres. Wheat stocks at the moment are below anticipated export requirements for the next crop year. Another drought on the Canadian prairies — and early reports are not promising — would make it impossible for Canada to meet domestic requirements and look after Britain and other traditional customers as well as Canada's commitments to communist countries.

It's Time for Mother To Go

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — She had spent as long a time as she felt she could afford to be with them. She knew if she spent another day she wouldn't belong as deeply as if she left now.

"You know we want you to stay here as long as you want to, mother," said her son-in-law.

"Yes, Mama," said her dutiful daughter. "Mother's Day wouldn't have been Mother's Day unless you had shared it with us."

"Well, it's awfully nice of you to say it," replied the old lady, looking absentmindedly but accurately around.

She reached over and straightened up the nearest cushion.

"You have such a nice place here," she remarked, looking around to the disorder of living she yearned to organize.

"Mama, I know it isn't as it ought to be," said her daughter.

"Well," replied her mother tact-fully, "I know you have so much to do. I always say that busy hands make busy purposes. Now where did I learn that?"

She hesitated, glanced lovingly around the room, then said: "I hate to say goodbye for now without saying goodbye to the children."

"They're out of the house," said her son-in-law. "God knows where."

"Mama, you can't leave without saying goodbye to the children," said her daughter. "I'll get them here."

"Christopher!" she cried.

"Joseph, Emanuel Jr.," she cried. "Come here! Now, I say!"

"Come here and say goodbye to grandma. She's going away."

One by one reluctant from play, the children responded to their mother's summons.

"I'm ashamed of you, I really am, children," she said. "After all, grandma made such an attempt to be with us. The least you could do is kiss her when she has to go away."

Each of the children in turn pecked grandma's withered cheek which flushed to a worn red apple bloom.

"G'bye, grandma," said the children racing away.

"It's been nice to have you with us, mother," said her son-in-law, awkwardly but truly. "Come again whenever you can."

The old lady strengthened her endurance of departure by pulling on the ceremonial gloves of leaving.

"Oh, Mama, mama," said her daughter, leaning her head against her mother's worn heart.

"Well, I declare," said the old lady. "You'd think a person wasn't going to see each other again!"

And she left them—wanting her back again.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

EDITOR'S NOTE — Midwestern optimism on the economy's future is tempered by hopes government won't rock the boat in this, last of three self-contained articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the part confidence will play in business and consumer decisions.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst CHICAGO (AP)—The Midwest seems fairly confident that a good year for business lies ahead. To this businessmen add one big "if"—and that's if confidence isn't shaken.

This is the consensus of top men in industry and trade interviewed, and of what their fellows and suppliers and customers tell them.

But many of the businessmen in Chicago don't buy the high economic targets the Kennedy administration set earlier in the year. They expect a good year for business but not that good.

And they don't want to see confidence upset by any spread of a three-sided contest among big government, big labor and big business.

The first casualty of such an upset might be a tightening of industry's spending plans—when just the opposite is needed now to get the economy rolling at the faster clip the Kennedy administration wants.

To this, some add that if labor gets the idea government is going to monitor wage increases—the

President insists it will only suggest the limit beyond which it feels inflation danger lies—then consumers might worry about income and job security and cut down on their current high level spending.

Each Chicago industry has its own peculiar problems—excess capacity, or keen competition from domestic rivals or foreign goods, or the need to keep abreast of fast-changing products or production techniques, or growing inroads from newer industrial regions in the Far West or South.

But in spite of the problems, top executives feel the economy as a whole should prosper—and their company in particular.

To bolster this they have the opinion of the research director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, who is on record as seeing no economic downturn before June 1963 at the earliest. And he thinks consumers will have plenty of confidence and plenty of spending money.

How business spending plans might be upset is explained this way by one industrialist:

A company needs to see a chance of profits—of getting a return on its investment—before putting money into expansion or modernization. Some businessmen are worried now lest the administration tighten what they call its attitude that profits should be held down, thus lessening the chances for a return.

Also any administration bias against big business as such might frighten some corporate policy makers.

One industrialist puts it this way: "Right now, considering our economic growth goals, they must be encouraged, not frightened."

But by and large, the executives feel that the current business-government ruckus hasn't changed any present plans for future spending.

Most of them also are counting on the administration going through with the work in progress on liberalizing depreciation tax rules. This would give the affected industries a faster charge off before taxes of aging equipment. Thus they would have more cash to invest.

THE CORONER shot a sympathetic glance at the widow dressed in black, with tears streaming down her face. "Can you recall your husband's last words?" he asked gently. Dear Doctor: Is there such a thing as confusion pills?

Mrs. J.P. (Minn.)

Dear Mrs. P.: Aspartate and glutamic acid pills may help confused patients.

Peyotl, a cactus extract used by Indians for religious ceremonies, confuses the mind. Still pictures float about, changing size and shape. You see music, taste sound, and hear colors.

Lysergic acid (LSD-50) works like peyotl. These colorful visions may throw new light on problems of mental illness.

Dear Doctor: My husband eats a special diabetic diet and drinks a pint of whisky daily.

(1) Is this good?

(2) Should we eat what he does?

Dear Mrs. H.: (1) Unless his special menu calls for whisky, he's not keeping to his diet.

(2) The whole family needn't follow his diet — that daily pint would be too much for each child.

Still, a table dripping with forbidden chocolate cakes and syrupy goodies could easily drive him to drink!

Dear Doctor: Are hives related to shingles? Aren't hives a summer heat ailment?

Dear Mrs. B.: Hives look like mosquito bites without the bites. Allergy brings them on any time of year. They itch.

Shingles is a chickenpox-like infection of a nerve, with a blistering rash on the skin nearby. It hurts! Heat rash breaks out when sweat glands clog up on hot, humid days. It stings. To soothe, sprinkle lightly with dry powder or cornstarch.

Dear Doctor: About a year ago, surgeons had to remove both my ovaries. I'm 39 with two children, but would like more. Can ovaries be replaced?

Mrs. N. F. (B.C.)

Dear Mrs. F.: No one has yet replaced human ovaries. Even if possible, such surgery would raise questions and eyebrows.

Who would be the real mother — the one who carried the baby or the original owner of the ovary that supplied the egg cell?

Dear Doctor: Many of my friends are trying honey, vinegar and hot water for various ailments. Isn't it dangerous to experiment with your own medicines?

Mrs. F.D. (Ohio)

Dear Mrs. D.: Not unless faith in the concoction masks true aches and pains that usually signal trouble.

Remember, vinegar, honey, and water are normal foods. If you label this hot mixture medicine, you're not even warm!

Miss Blanding's Point of View

By George Sokolsky

Apparently the Liberals have discovered another subject for mental exercise. The President of Vassar, Sarah Gibson Blanding, after considerable cogitation, expressed opposition to premarital relations and promiscuity among Vassar girls. That does not mean that all Vassar girls have such relations; it does mean that Vassar chooses not to be a place for those who do. And it is Vassar's prerogative to make the choice.

The Liberals feel that all sex relations are a matter for private decision and that if girls choose to be bums, that is strictly their own affair. One the other hand, a college, a university, or even a club or hotel, it would seem to me, is entitled to have some say as to who is to be admitted into its buildings.

Most American colleges, these days, permit their students to marry and it does seem a sight for sore eyes watching a student, big with child, marching about a campus. I can see no particular objection to married students although it does strike me as more seemly if the girls waited until after they are graduated.

It is the "shacking-up" which I do think is very objectionable and I am sure Miss Blanding had that in mind although she preferred to speak of it more professionally. It is, of course, a private matter how one chooses to go to the Devil, or, if anyone objects to references to the Fallen Angel, it is possible to say, how one destroys herself.

But it becomes a social question when so large a number of marriages result in divorces which only too often means broken homes and the sacrifice of children to the lust and passions of sex experimentation. It also is a social question when sex relations destroy the physical fitness and the propriety of a nation by the acceptance of unusual and perverse relationships as normal.

The assumption that the college has nothing to do with character building of the nation is to relegate such institutions to an intellectual isolation unrelated to the life and welfare of the community. This cannot be the purpose of any college.

The Liberals suggest that the real trouble with such schools as Vassar is that they are for females only, which, they say, is abnormal and means that the girls, having been maleless for five days, bust loose and go wild. This is nonsense as the standards and grades of girls' colleges establish beyond doubt. The standards are tougher and the grades are higher and many girls do their majoring in tough subjects.

Marriage is still a popular enterprise among young ladies and from my observations, most girls accept the customs of the land and of the moment without too much fuss. There are periods of puritanical attitudes and periods when anything goes.

Those who believe that promiscuity and other forms of assertive emancipation are evidences of Liberalism confuse words and acts. The real danger is that when girls in college attempt personal adventures without adequate preparation, they often get fouled up, like the 19 year old girl in the Bronx, who had an abortion and was caught by the police.

It is easy work for the armchair philosopher to write advice to the lover and to take an uncompromising attitude toward individual rights, but Miss Blanding shows better sense based on board experience. She knows that it is the girl who gets into a jam and who is, only too often, deserted by the guy who cannot do much about it, anyhow, because he is a jerk in the first place. She knows that decent parents are concerned about what happens to their children and that it becomes costly to a school if it gets a bad name.

Perhaps if the modern students, male and female, were not so sloppy in dress and in manner, their minds would not be so devoted, even on week-ends, to illicit sex and taverns and motels.

The girls' colleges have long histories and have existed through many changes of customs and habits. They have their place in our society, just as the co-educational college has.

Students must be judged by the marks they get in hard subjects and by their character as displayed when among other human beings. Those who cannot restrain themselves, who try everything that comes their way, who leave trails of disturbance behind them, are not worth much in the long run.

Most parents will support Miss Blanding's point of view.

Canada and Red Trade

An official release from Ottawa stating that direction of Canadian exports in 1961 "altered somewhat" can be chalked up as the understatement of the year. Some of the new twists revealed by the recent release of details are almost bizarre.

Trade with Commonwealth countries is down, quite sharply down if Britain is excluded. Trade with communist countries has increased to a level that provides the major feature of the year. Exports to the Soviet Union are about three times those of 1960. Sales to Cuba nearly equal those of 1960. Sales to Cuba nearly equal those to all the islands and are far ahead of Canada's trade with Japan.

Communist China has now established itself as Canada's fifth best customer, pushing Australia to sixth place and replacing India in the leading 10 countries.

Exports to Red China jumped from $8.7 million to $122.8 million.

With the exception of Cuban exports, which covered some 350 different commodities, the answer to this fantastic picture of trade behind the iron curtain lies in Canada's vigorous effort to sell wheat and barley on credit.

The Canadian minister of agriculture has now voiced a strong appeal to western farmers to seed more acres. Wheat stocks at the moment are below anticipated export requirements for the next crop year. Another drought on the Canadian prairies — and early reports are not promising — would make it impossible for Canada to meet domestic requirements and look after Britain and other traditional customers as well as Canada's commitments to communist countries.

It's Time for Mother To Go

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — She had spent as long a time as she felt she could afford to be with them. She knew if she spent another day she wouldn't belong as deeply as if she left now.

"You know we want you to stay here as long as you want to, mother," said her son-in-law.

"Yes, Mama," said her dutiful daughter. "Mother's Day wouldn't have been Mother's Day unless you had shared it with us."

"Well, it's awfully nice of you to say it," replied the old lady, looking absentmindedly but accurately around.

She reached over and straightened up the nearest cushion.

"You have such a nice place here," she remarked, looking around to the disorder of living she yearned to organize.

"Mama, I know it isn't as it ought to be," said her daughter.

"Well," replied her mother tactfully, "I know you have so much to do. I always say that busy hands make busy purposes. Now where did I learn that?"

She hesitated, glanced lovingly around the room, then said:

"I hate to say goodbye for now without saying goodbye to the children."

"They're out of the house," said her son-in-law. "God knows where."

"Mama, you can't leave without saying goodbye to the children," said her daughter. "I'll get them here."

"Jill!" she cried.

"Christopher!" she cried.

"Joseph Emanuel Jr.," she cried. "Come here! Now, I say! Come here and say goodbye to grandma. She's going away."

One by one, reluctant from play, the children responded to their mother's summons.

"I'm ashamed of you, I really am, children," she said. "After all, grandma made such an attempt to be with us. The least you could do is kiss her when she has to go away."

Each of the children in turn pecked grandma's withered cheek which flushed to a worn red apple bloom.

"G'bye, grandma," said the children racing away.

"It's been nice to have you with us, mother," said her son-in-law, awkwardly but truly. "Come again whenever you can."

The old lady strengthened her endurance of departure by pulling on the ceremonial gloves of leaving.

"Oh, Mama, mama," said her daughter, leaning her head against her mother's worn heart.

"Well, I declare," said the old lady. "You'd think a person wasn't going to see each other again!"

And she left them—wanting her back again.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

EDITOR'S NOTE — Midwestern optimism on the economy's future is tempered by hopes government won't rock the boat in this, last of three self-contained articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the part confidence will play in business and consumer decisions.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

CHICAGO (AP)—The Midwest seems fairly confident that a good year for business lies ahead. To this businessmen add one big "if"—and that's if confidence isn't shaken.

This is the consensus of top men in industry and trade interviewed, and of what their fellows and suppliers and customers tell them.

But many of the businessmen in Chicago don't buy the high economic targets the Kennedy administration set earlier in the year. They expect a good year for business but not that good.

And they don't want to see confidence upset by any spread of a three-sided contest among big government, big labor and big business.

The first casualty of such an upset might be a tightening of industry's spending plans—when just the opposite is needed now to get the economy rolling at the faster clip the Kennedy administration wants.

To this, some add that if labor gets the idea government is going to monitor wage increases—the President insists it will only suggest the limit beyond which it feels inflation danger lies—then consumers might worry about income and job security and cut down on their current high level spending.

Each Chicago industry has its own peculiar problems—excess capacity, or keen competition from domestic rivals or foreign goods, or the need to keep abreast of fast-changing products or production techniques, or growing inroads from newer industrial regions in the Far West or South.

But in spite of the problems, top executives feel the economy as a whole should prosper—and their company in particular.

To bolster this they have the opinion of the research director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, who is on record as seeing no economic downturn before June 1963 at the earliest. And he thinks consumers will have plenty of confidence and plenty of spending money.

How business spending plans might be upset is explained this way by one industrialist:

A company needs to see a chance of profits—of getting a return on its investment—before putting money into expansion or modernization. Some businessmen are worried now lest the administration tighten what they call its attitude that profits should be held down, thus lessening the chances for a return.

Also any administration bias against bigness as such might frighten some corporate policy makers.

One industrialist puts it this way: "Right now, considering our economic growth goals, they must be encouraged, not frightened."

But by and large, the executives feel that the current business-government ruckus hasn't changed any present plans for future spending.

Most of them also are counting on the administration going through with the work in progress on liberalizing depreciation tax rules. This would give the affected industries a faster charge off before taxes of aging equipment. Thus they would have more cash to invest.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.
Dear Doctor: Is there such a thing as confusion pills?

Mrs. J.P. (Minn.)
Dear Mrs. P.: Aspartate and glutamic acid pills may help confused patients.

Peyotl, a cactus extract used by Indians for religious ceremonies, confuses the mind. Still pictures float about, changing size and shape. You see music, taste sound, and hear colors.

Lysergic acid (LSD-50) works like peyotl.

These colorful visions may throw new light on problems of mental illness.

Dear Doctor: My husband eats a special diabetic diet and drinks a pint of whisky daily.

(1) Is this good?

(2) Should we eat what he does?

Mrs. X. H. (Iowa)
Dear Mrs. H.: (1) Unless his special menu calls for whisky, he's not keeping to his diet.

(2) The whole family needn't follow his diet — that daily pint would be too much for each child.

Still, a table dripping with forbidden chocolate cakes and syrupy goodies could easily drive him to drink!

Dear Doctor: Are hives related to shingles? Aren't hives a summer heat ailment?

Mrs. O.B. (Mass.)
Dear Mrs. B.: Hives look like mosquito bites without the bites. Allergy brings them on any time of year. They itch.

Shingles is a chickenpox-like infection of a nerve, with a blistering rash on the skin nearby. It hurts! Heat rash breaks out when sweat glands clog up on hot, humid days. It stings. To soothe, sprinkle lightly with dry powder or cornstarch.

Dear Doctor: About a year ago, surgeons had to remove both my ovaries. I'm 39 with two children, but would like more. Can ovaries be replaced?

Mrs. N. F. (B.C.)
Dear Mrs. F.: No one has yet replaced human ovaries. Even if possible, such surgery would raise questions and eyebrows.

Who would be the real mother — the one who carried the baby or the original owner of the ovary that supplied the egg cell?

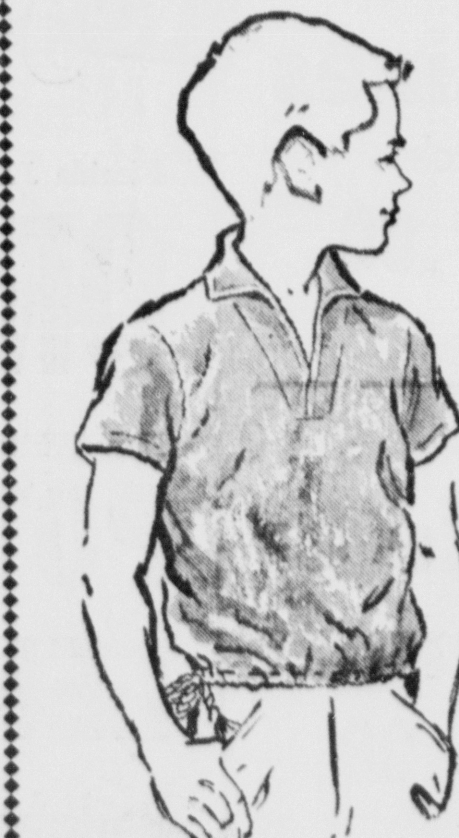

Dear Doctor: Many of my friends are trying honey, vinegar and hot water for various ailments. Isn't it dangerous to experiment with your own medicines?

Mrs. F.D. (Ohio)
Dear Mrs. D.: Not unless faith in the concoction masks true aches and pains that usually signal trouble.

Remember, vinegar, honey, and water are normal foods. If you label this hot mixture medicine, you're not even warm!

Miss Blanding's Point of View

By George Sokolsky

Apparently the Liberals have discovered another subject for mental exercise. The President of Vassar, Sarah Gibson Blanding, after considerable cogitation, expressed opposition to premarital relations and promiscuity among Vassar girls. That does not mean that all Vassar girls have such relations; it does mean that Vassar chooses not to be a place for those who do. And it is Vassar's prerogative to make the choice.

The Liberals feel that all sex relations are a matter for private decision and that if girls choose to be bums, that is strictly their own affair. One the other hand, a college, a university, or even a club or hotel, it would seem to me, is entitled to have some say as to who is to be admitted into its buildings.

Most American colleges, these days, permit their students to marry and it does seem a sight for sore eyes watching a student, big with child, marching about a campus. I can see no particular objection to married students although it does strike me as more seemly if the girls waited until after they are graduated.

It is the "shacking-up" which I do think is very objectionable and I am sure Miss Blanding had that in mind although she preferred to speak of it more professionally. It is, of course, a private matter how one chooses to go to the Devil, or, if anyone objects to references to the Fallen Angel, it is possible to say, how one destroys herself.

But it becomes a social question when so large a number of marriages result in divorces which only too often means broken homes and the sacrifice of children to the lust and passions of sex experimentation. It also is a social question when sex relations destroy the physical fitness and the propriety of a nation by the acceptance of unusual and perverse relationships as normal.

The assumption that the college has nothing to do with character building of the nation is to relegate such institutions to an intellectual isolation unrelated to the life and welfare of the community. This cannot be the purpose of any college.

The Liberals suggest that the real trouble with such schools as Vassar is that they are for females only, which, they say, is abnormal and means that the girls, having been maleless for five days, bust loose and go wild. This is nonsense as the standards and grades of girls' colleges establish beyond doubt. The standards are tougher and the grades are higher and many girls do their majoring in tough subjects.

Marriage is still a popular enterprise among young ladies and from my observations, most girls accept the customs of the land and of the moment without too much fuss. There are periods of puritanical attitudes and periods when anything goes.

Those who believe that promiscuity and other forms of assertive emancipation are evidences of Liberalism confuse words and acts. The real danger is that when girls in college attempt personal adventures, without adequate preparation, they often get fouled up, like the 19 year old girl in the Bronx, who had an abortion and was caught by the police.

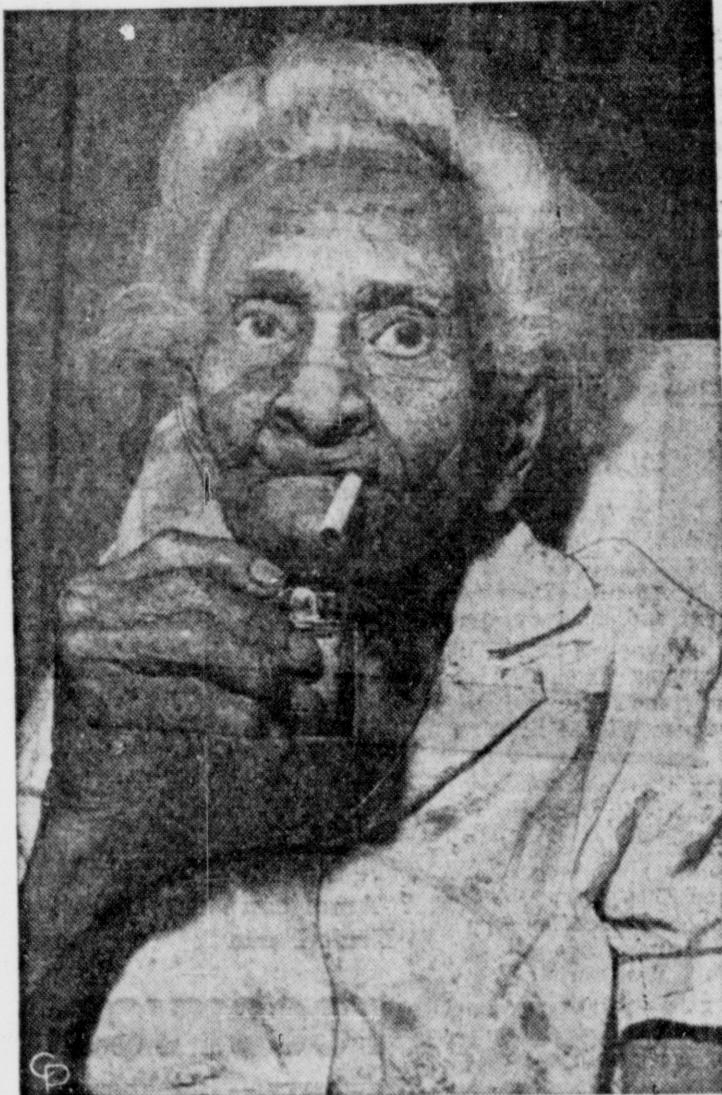

It is easy work for the armchair philosopher to write advice to the lovelorn and to take an uncompromising attitude toward individual rights, but Miss Blanding shows better sense based on board experience. She knows that it is the girl who gets into a jam and who is, only too often, deserted by the guy who cannot do much about it, anyhow, because he is a jerk in the first place. She knows that decent parents are concerned about what happens to their children and that it becomes costly to a school if it gets a bad name.

Perhaps if the modern students, male and female, were not so sloppy in dress and in manner, their minds would not be so devoted, even on week-ends, to illicit sex and taverns and motels.

Students must be judged by the marks they get in hard subjects and by their character as displayed when among other human beings. Those who cannot restrain themselves, who try everything that comes their way, who leave trails of disturbance behind them, are not worth much in the long run.

Most parents will support Miss Blanding's point of view.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. William Cook who also introduced Mrs. C. O. Schweizer who attended the Ohio Conference meeting of the Woman's Society in Cincinnati Hyde Park Community Church April 24 - 26.

Mrs. Schweizer spoke interestingly and informatively of the three day program and the tours taken by the group to church-sponsored projects in Cincinnati. More than 800 women attended the sessions which were designed to provide information and inspiration to women of the local churches regarding use of funds given for missionary purposes.

A brief business session was conducted by Mrs. Roloff Wolford. She then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Cook who has been elected chairman of the circle for next year.

Mrs. Cook asked that all members let her know whether or not Monday evening is a convenient time to attend the circle meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Slav Author Back in Prison

Critic of Communism
Loses Out to Tito

BELGRADE (AP) — Milovan Djilas, critic of Communism who was once President Tito's heir apparent, was back in prison today under sentence of eight years and eight months for disclosing state secrets and violating parole.

A three-judge tribunal convicted the former vice president at a closed one-day trial Monday.

Djilas, 51, was sentenced to five years for divulging state secrets in his new book "Conversations with Stalin," which is to be published in the United States later this month.

The court added three years and eight months to cover the unexpired part of a nine-year term from which Djilas was paroled last year.

Presiding Judge Miodrag Stevovic said Djilas had disclosed confidential information and added his own impressions "to give reactionary circles a tool to pour oil to the fire of the cold war."

The judge said information that could harm Yugoslavia was contained in the manuscript Djilas turned over last year to the New York firm of Harcourt, Brace & World Publishing Inc.

Stevovic said Djilas obtained the information during 1944-48 as a representative of the Yugoslav government in official talks and confidential exchanges. He said Djilas did not offer his book to any Yugoslav publisher or inform authorities, as he was obliged to do under terms of his parole.

Djilas was sent to jail twice before for writings criticizing communism. While in prison in 1957, he was tried for spiriting out a book, "The New Class," which was published abroad. It dealt with the thesis that communism creates a privileged class.

U.S. Research Expenditures Running High

CLEVELAND (AP) — Expenditures for research in the United States will total $16.5 billion this year and may run as high as $25 billion annually by 1970, the American Gas Association was told today.

The speaker was Lyle C. Harvey, senior vice president of the Carrier Corp., who addressed the association's 17th annual research and gas utilization conference. He said research expenditures now are five times higher than they were in 1950.

Harvey said the gas industry's total assets have increased almost seven-fold in the last 15 years and attributed the progress to the industry's research and development activities. He is former president and treasurer of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

He called "suicidal" the tendency of many business men to "self-impose a profit squeeze" to meet competition.

"When irresponsible competition creates a no-profit situation," Harvey said, "this is immediately reflected in the amount of money available for research and development and in a curtailment of tomorrow's changes and progress."

He's charged with Army desertion, too, so some sort of asylum is likely.

Sandusky-Wood Project Is Upheld

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Opponents of a $120,000 improvement of Sugar Creek in Sandusky and Wood counties lost another round Tuesday when the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals upheld plans for the project.

The project includes deepening, straightening and cleaning some 10 miles of the creek in Woodville and Scott townships in Sandusky County and Perry and Montgomery townships in Wood County.

CUBA NO WANT — Robert Joe Keesee, 28, apparently thinks it's a big joke as he is taken in tow by the FBI (fingers gripping arms) on landing in Miami, Fla., from a commercial plane from Havana. Last March 23 he stole a plane in Amarillo, Tex., and flew it to Cuba, seeking political asylum, but Cuba decided against him. He's charged with Army desertion, too, so some sort of asylum is likely.

Sandusky-Wood Project Is Upheld

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Opponents of a $120,000 improvement of Sugar Creek in Sandusky and Wood counties lost another round Tuesday when the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals upheld plans for the project.

The opponents claim benefits would not be sufficient for the cost and that assessments were not properly drawn. The appeals court upheld two lower court rulings which approved the plans.

The project includes deepening, straightening and cleaning some 10 miles of the creek in Woodville and Scott townships in Sandusky County and Perry and Montgomery townships in Wood County.

U. S. Supermarket 'Invention' Now Affecting Entire World

A typical American supermarket—filled with customers of all ages.

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

CHICAGO — America's supermarkets are having a great influence on self-service throughout the world. The revolutionary system, first introduced in the United States in 1930, has now penetrated into 52 nations in the Eastern and Western Hemispheres, according to reports which will highlight the 25th anniversary of the Supermarket Institute in Chicago May 13-16.

In such remote countries as Nigeria, Australia, New Zealand, Turkey, Lebanon, Iran, Iraq, Japan, Malaya and the Philippines, among scores of others, self-service is now commonplace.

In all, says the Supermarket Institute, the largest trade association of the self-service retail food industry, there are now more than 15,000 self-service stores in operation outside the United States.

There are 8,300 in Great Britain alone. Italians, who spend 45 per cent of their income on food, welcome the supermarket as a saver of 10 to 15 per cent on grocery and meat costs. The French expect to have a 100-store supermarket complex in operation by 1965.

Germany's supermarkets are now few in number but growing, concentrated largely in industrial cities. Two Belgian firms have put 16 supermarkets in operation in that country in the past two years, and are planning another six. In Switzerland, the number of supermarkets rose from two in 1952 to 40 in 1961.

Even Russia has joined the bandwagon, installing waves of self-service food stores as fast as they can be built. Plans have been approved for standard, huge supermarkets for 140 Soviet cities as a beginning. They are to be umbrella-shaped, glassed-in buildings which will accommodate 12,000 to 15,000 shoppers at a time.

Russian supermarkets will not, however, bring down food prices there, as they have in the United States and other Western countries. A quart of milk costs seven working minutes in the U. S., 14 working minutes in England. In Russia, it costs 33 working minutes.

It takes an American 3.2 minutes to earn a pound of sugar; the Russian works an hour-and-a-quarter for it. An American worker can earn a pound of butter with 21.8 minutes' labor; his U.S.S.R. counterpart must spend three hours and 22 minutes earning it.

The nearly 1,000 supermarket operators attending their association's silver anniversary this year will also learn some newly compiled facts about their customers and their habits.

For one thing, only one-half of today's supermarket shoppers are women alone. Two out of five shoppers are accompanied by their husbands or their children. For many families shopping is a family affair.

The average supermarket shopper spends 27 minutes in the store, as compared with only 18 minutes seven years ago. She visits her supermarket at least twice a week.

Over half of the nation's supermarket shoppers go through the check-out counters three times or more each week. One shopper in four buys four times a week or more. They spend an average of $7.74 each trip.

Monday and Tuesdays are the "lightest" days of the week, although even on those days the average check is well over $5. Purchases on Friday and Saturday are about 70 per cent higher than during the early part of the week.

Each supermarket shopper now buys an average 13.7 items per trip, as compared to only 12.7 items seven years ago. One shopper in three buys more than 15 items. Shoppers today are spending 50 per cent more time and buying eight per cent more merchandise than they did in 1955.

However their customers act, the supermarkets of America today are very big business, indeed. For 1961, according to the Supermarket Institute, there were more than 33,300 of them in the United States, doing nearly $40 billion in annual business, and handling more than 70 per cent of all the nation's grocery sales.

DiSalle Queries Rhodes On Axle Tax Repeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has asked his Republican gubernatorial opponent, State Auditor James Rhodes, if he is in favor of the repeal of the truck axle-mile tax.

"If you are in favor of its repeal," DiSalle asked Rhodes through newsmen, "what would you recommend as a substitute to protect revenues necessary for bond retirement and expanded highway construction?"

The tax on big trucks using Ohio highways produces about $15 million a year. The money is pledged to retirement of highway construction bonds.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The third car of a four-car elevated train derailed at the platform of a terminal in northeast Philadelphia Tuesday, injuring 12 persons.

Loss of Leg Fails To Curb Enthusiasm of Film Stuntman

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There is a special breed of brave men in movie making called stunt men. One of the most fearless was Bob Morgan.

Stunt men are legends in an era when most people face no greater hazard than highway traffic. These men will do anything from falling from a three-story building to leaping a horse off a cliff into a river.

They are paid well for it. Some can earn as much as $30,000 a year. They bargain with producers for individual stunts. A spectacular one can bring stunt men as much as $2,000.

But they can also get hurt.

Bob Morgan had worked in most of the big action movies for 17 years. Danger came easily to him; he was a squadron commander in Navy aviation during the war.

Last month Morgan took a job to go on location in Arizona with "How the West Was Won." The assignment seemed like routine stuff—or as routine as a stunt man's work could be. They were shooting some action scenes on an old railroad train.

"Bob was aboard a flat car that was loaded with logs," said a colleague. "The logs were operated by hydraulic lifts and swung out on curves. Bob had finished the shot and looked back toward the camera train. One of the logs knocked him off the car."

"He fell between the tracks and three railroad cars passed over him. He wasn't run over by the wheels, but the clearance was so low that he was mangled."

Morgan was rushed to Good Samaritan Hospital in Phoenix, where his condition was grave. His wife, Yvonne DeCarlo, canceled her engagements to be at his side. The Stunt Men's Association issued an appeal for blood, which was badly needed in the fight to save Morgan's leg.

The response from his fellow workers in the movie business was overwhelming.

Morgan developed a toxic condition, and doctors agreed the leg would have to be amputated to save his life. It was severed above the knee.

Now at 46 he is faced with the loss of his profession as well as the end of the vigorous life he had loved. His action?

"He has accepted it beautifully," his wife said. "He is eager to get in there and start working with an artificial leg as soon as he can."

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Laos is a symbol of America's dilemma in trying to get right-wing leaders in impoverished countries to give their people some tangible reason for preferring the West to Communism.

In Southeast Asia's landlocked Laos about 80 per cent of the 2 to 3 million people, mostly farmers, are illiterate. Life expectancy is about 40 years. They have a pathetically low standard of living.

Stories of Laos repeatedly tell two things about the people: They're gentle and also indifferent about who wins the struggle between the pro-Communist Pathet-Lao forces of Prince Souphanouvong and the pro-Western and U.S.-backed forces of Prince Boun Oum.

There is also a middle, neutralist group led by Prince Souvanna Phouma.

It's no wonder the masses are indifferent. Being mostly illiterate, and never exposed to democracy or communism, they can know little about either.

To the West, communism may be an abomination. It can have no such meaning to the poverty-stricken Laotians, particularly if it promises a life better than the one they have, particularly since now they can expect to die young.

In short, there is a vast gulf between prince and peasant, between rich and poor. It is against this background that President Kennedy has to do business.

Getting American forces directly involved in Laos is undoubtedly the last thing he wants. It would be a wretched country for war. Yet, in Communist hands Laos would have vital strategic value.

It borders on Red China, Viet Nam, Burma, Cambodia and Thailand. It's like a dagger, and in Communist hands would be, in the stomach of Southeast Asia an area that the United States is anxious to preserve from communism.

Kennedy is sending American forces into friendly, neighboring Thailand. The Communists can take this as a warning the Americans will move into Laos against them if they don't stop pushing there.

It's questionable he would send them in since Laos could then turn into another Korea, with Red China moving in from the north.

Kennedy's problem therefore is, as it has been since he took office, how to save Laos from being overrun by Communists and still avoid direct involvement.

He agreed with Premier Khrushchev last year to seek a middle ground: to set up a coalition government of the three princes representing the neutralists, the pro-Communists and the pro-Western groups.

But Kennedy ran into a rock in Prince Boun Oum, who would not join the coalition unless he could control the army and police in the new government. The others wouldn't go for it.

Boun Oum is said to fear that if there is a coalition government it will mean in the end complete victory for the Communists through gradual takeover of the whole government.

He's probably right. But it's certain the Communists will take over by direct force if he doesn't join the coalition—he can't stop them—unless the United States go in to help him.

But, even though he had no place to go but out if he didn't budge. To try to budge him, the United States shut off economic help to him. He still stood pat.

Finally the pro-Communist Pathet-Lao struck again, breaking the truce brought about by Kennedy and Khrushchev.

If there is a coalition government eventually, and if then the Communists take over gradually, it will be an embarrassment for the United States.

But it wouldn't be quite as bad as if the United States just washed its hands of Laos altogether under Communist military pressure. The other pro-Western nations in Southeast Asia wouldn't then have much hope, either.

U. S. Supermarket 'Invention' Now Affecting Entire World

A typical American supermarket—filled with customers of all ages.

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

CHICAGO — America's supermarkets are having a great influence on self-service throughout the world. The revolutionary system, first introduced in the United States in 1930, has now penetrated into 52 nations in the Eastern and Western Hemispheres, according to reports which will highlight the 25th anniversary of the Supermarket Institute in Chicago May 13-16.

In such remote countries as Nigeria, Australia, New Zealand, Turkey, Lebanon, Iran, Iraq, Japan, Malaya and the Philippines, among scores of others, self-service is now commonplace.

In all, says the Supermarket Institute, the largest trade association of the self-service retail food industry, there are now more than 15,000 self-service stores in operation outside the United States.

There are 8,300 in Great Britain alone. Italians, who spend 45 per cent of their income on food, welcome the supermarket as a saver of 10 to 15 per cent on grocery and meat costs. The French expect to have a 100-store supermarket complex in operation by 1965.

Germany's supermarkets are now few in number but growing, concentrated largely in industrial cities. Two Belgian firms have put 16 supermarkets in operation in that country in the past two years, and are planning another six. In Switzerland, the number of supermarkets rose from two in 1952 to 40 in 1961.

Even Russia has joined the bandwagon, installing waves of self-service food stores as fast as they can be built. Plans have been approved for standard, huge supermarkets for 140 Soviet cities as a beginning. They are to be umbrella-shaped, glassed-in buildings which will accommodate 12,000 to 15,000 shoppers at a time.

Russian supermarkets will not, however, bring down food prices there, as they have in the United States and other Western countries. A quart of milk costs seven working minutes in the U. S., 14 working minutes in England. In Russia, it costs 33 working minutes.

It takes an American 3.2 minutes to earn a pound of sugar; the Russian works an hour-and-a-quarter for it. An American worker can earn a pound of butter with 21.8 minutes' labor; his U.S.S.R. counterpart must spend three hours and 22 minutes earning it. The nearly 1,000 supermarket operators attending their association's silver anniversary this year will also learn some newly compiled facts about their customers and their habits.

For one thing, only one-half of today's supermarket shoppers are women alone. Two out of five shoppers are accompanied by their husbands or their children. For many families shopping is a family affair.

The average supermarket shopper spends 27 minutes in the store, as compared with only 18 minutes seven years ago. She visits her supermarket at least twice a week.

Over half of the nation's supermarket shoppers go through the check-out counters three times or more each week. One shopper in four buys four times a week or more. They spend an average of $7.74 each trip.

Mondays and Tuesdays are the "lightest" days of the week, although even on those days the average check is well over $5. Purchases on Friday and Saturday are about 70 per cent higher than during the early part of the week.

Each supermarket shopper now buys an average 13.7 items per trip, as compared to only 12.7 items seven years ago. One shopper in three buys more than 15 items. Shoppers today are spending 50 per cent more time and buying eight per cent more merchandise than they did in 1955.

The banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. and is open to the public. Reservations may be made by calling the school office.

On Saturday at 6:30 p. m. the Ashville Band Boosters will hold a banquet in honor of all of the Senior Band members. This banquet is open to band members only. Parents are invited to join with the group at 7:30 p. m. for the presentation of awards.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs the past week: May 8 — removed Lena Peterson to Berger Hospital; May 9 — removed Mrs. Franklin Hoover to Doctor's Hospital; May 10 — removed Mrs. Grace Watson to Hedges St., Ashville, to University Hospital; May 12 — returned Mrs. Robert Hoover home from Mercy Hospital and Roy Scott home from Mercy Hospital.

The women faculty members of Ashville School are entertaining the men faculty members to dinner this Wednesday evening at the Pickaway Arms in Circleville.

Tom Bausum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bausum, spent the weekend with his parents. Tom is stationed with the U. S. Navy at Brooklyn, New York. He returned to his base Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. John Morgan have returned home after spending two weeks vacationing in Florida.

THE ASHVILLE School's Future Teachers Association held a potluck dinner Tuesday evening in the park. The senior class also held a carry-in dinner at the school on May 8.

The Junior — Senior Banquet for the students and faculty members of Ashville was held Friday evening in the school auditorium at 6:30 p. m.

The junior mothers prepared the banquet and the junior boys and girls performed an admirable job in transforming the auditorium into a "Wonderland by Night".

The guests entered through an arch into a garden completely enclosed with a false ceiling and walls of blue and white streamers. A garden scene with a running fountain, palm trees, revolving lights and lattice was the center of attraction.

Guests were seated at individual dining tables covered in white linen. The tables were centered with arrangements in white vases and flanked on both sides with white tapers. Girls in beautiful dinner gowns completed the scene.

The Junior Welcome Speech presented by Sonny Roof, class president. A vocal solo was presented by Marilyn Hay followed by The Patel Quartet. A Junior Girls Decet sang two selections, "Voice in the Village Choir" and "If You Loved Me". Group singing was then led by Kathy Courtright followed by the Senior Appreciation Speech presented by David Newton, senior class president.

Following the banquet the guests joined with other students from Pickaway County for a dance at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum. An all-night party was held for the seniors by their parents at the Ashville High School. Breakfast was served as the new morning dawned.

Members of the Ashville Methodist Church enjoyed a Family Fellowship Night at the church Sunday evening.

To start the evening several games was enjoyed by the group on the church lawn. The group then retired to the basement where a program was prepared and presented by Mrs. Art Deal.

The program was based on National Christian Family Week, Mother's Day, and in honor of the graduating seniors who have taken part in the church and Sunday school.

The children sang "Our Happy Land, America" and everyone enjoyed singing "M-O-T-H-E-R". Miss Kathy Stout and Miss Ellen Snyder sang a vocal duet, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey was presented a flower for the most living children; Mrs. Stanley Beckett a plant for the oldest mother attending; and Mrs. Taylor Lutz a planter for the youngest mother in attendance.

HONOR was paid to the following seniors: Miss Kathy Stout, Tom Rathbun, Michael Gulick and Ervin Wheller. Miss Beverly Johnson was unable to attend. A tribute "My Church" was paid to them by Benis Lutz. Lowell Ridenour, Sunday School superintendent, presented the seniors with bibles, a gift of the Sunday School.

The program closed with the singing of the hymn "Happy the Home". Each mother present was presented a carnation upon arriving.

The honored guests, followed by the rest of the group, was served punch and cake from a beautiful decorated tea table centered with a large arrangement of lilacs and orchid tulips and orchid candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. Lowell Ridenour and Mrs. E. R. Gregg assisted Mrs. Deal with the arrangements.

This was the last of the Sunday Night Fellowships until September.

OSP Graduation Set Tomorrow

A highlight of National Police Week, now being observed across the nation, will be graduation ceremonies tomorrow for 59th Training Class of the Ohio State Highway Patrol at the Youth Center, Ohio State Fairgrounds, Columbus.

Among the 32 graduates is J.M. Dodd, Columbus, who received much of his dispatcher's training at Circleville Post No. 65. Dodd will be assigned at the local post trainee until he is appointed as regular patrolman.

Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds will administer the oath of office. The main address will be given by Columbus Police Chief George W. Scholer.

A reception for the new patrolmen and members of their families will be held in the East Auditorium of the Youth Center following graduation ceremonies.

Roaming Bedouins May 'Stay Put'

A Bedouin girl gets a medical shot.

BEERSHEBA, Israel — Desert nomads who have roamed the wilderness almost ever since Eve ate the apple, are currently experiencing a "new look" in Israel.

Under a sweeping program, inaugurated by the Israeli government, the future of the perennial roamers, whose endless roaming has been compared to the sands of the desert, is changing. In a series of experiments, which could spread to Asian and African countries, Israel is getting the nomad to settle down at long last.

The idea is to convert the Arab Bedouin into a productive, stable element.

In one program alone, 1,000 of the tribesmen are being shifted from Israel's Negev Desert to permanent re-settlement in Israel's interior. There, permanent housing is provided.

Fields and crops are also allocated to the Bedouin, which will both enhance their economic status and fit into the country's general agricultural program.

Coaxing the Bedouin to give up their hereditary roaming freedom sometimes proves difficult. When Israeli authorities on one occasion tried to tempt the Bedouin out of their tents by inviting tribe leaders to spend the night in a modern hotel, startled government officials walked into the Bedouin bedroom next morning to find beds still made and the tribesmen stretched out on the floor.

"We are more comfortable that way," an embarrassed chief told an official.

However, these and other obstacles are slowly being overcome, and the vanguard of an estimated 20,000 Negev Desert Bedouin have already adjusted themselves to permanent homes.

As the plan proceeds Israeli authorities are modernizing conditions for the Negev Bedouin to switch over to permanent status. Mobile health units now crisscross the desert; education courses are being introduced, and even pony express-type mail services will now deliver letters to the front flap of the wandering Bedouin still camping out in the desert.

Lausche Seeks Strip Mining Reclamation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, offered today a bill calling for a study of strip mining operations which he said have "left abominable, grotesque scars" on the land in many states.

"In many areas, the land has been robbed of its resources and abandoned to the wrath of the elements," Lausche said.

"There are large areas in Ohio and other states where, as a result of stripping operations, public highways have suffered severe damage by reason of slippage; streams, lakes and wells have been polluted; wildlife cover has been destroyed, and, finally, the entire areas themselves have been virtual wasteland."

Lausche said the study would enable Congress and the states to determine how "to restore to usefulness these ever-growing numbers of acres of desolation."

Lausche said when he was governor of Ohio almost insurmountable opposition prevented him from writing stricter conservation measures into state law, although a measure was finally pushed through to require strip mine operators to level spoiled banks and plant grass and trees.

Tattoos Hard To Remove

Q. How can a tattoo be removed?

A. Removal of a tattoo is difficult and disfiguring because the only sure method requires surgery and, usually, skin grafting. Tattooing may be on the way out. The tattoo parlors of New York City have been closed by the Health Department. There is a sound medical reason for this move. About one or two persons of every thousand tattooed develop viral hepatitis. The disease is passed along from infected persons via dirty tattooing needles. Other cities may follow New York's example in prohibiting this ancient craft which thrives in the seaports throughout the world.

Homogenized Milk

Q. What advantages has homogenized milk over plain milk?

A. The butter fat and vitamin D in homogenized milk is more evenly distributed and more efficiently digested, especially by infants and young children. Homogenizing also improves the flavor of milk.

The best medical service is provided through friendly, mutual understanding between patient and physician. Feel free to discuss all aspects of medical care with him. And, when medication is prescribed, allow us to fill your prescription in equal confidence.

2 Ike Choices Win Handily In Pennsy, Nebraska Polls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two men endorsed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower won Republican gubernatorial nominations by lopsided margins in Nebraska and Pennsylvania and Gov. J. Millard Tawes won Democratic renomination in Maryland by a surprisingly large margin.

The Eisenhower-backed winners in Tuesday's primary elections were Rep. William Scranton in Pennsylvania and former Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton in Nebraska.

Tawes overcame allegations of patronage peddling to win nomination for a second term by a solid margin in what had been rated a very close race. The former state comptroller, 68, handed Baltimore contractor George Mahoney his seventh straight defeat by a 3-2 margin in popular votes.

Maryland Republicans picked former Rep. Frank Small Jr. to contest Tawes in November.

Scranton, 44, entered the Pennsylvania race after Eisenhower—a fellow Pennsylvanian—let it be known he would campaign only for "young and vigorous" tickets. He had the party leadership's backing but State Grange Master J. Collins McSparran, charging that Scranton was a "carbon copy Democrat," waged a vigorous campaign. Scranton rolled up a 4-1 margin.

His opponent in November will be Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, who crushed two politically unknown candidates in the Democratic primary. Dilworth tried once before, in 1950, and lost by 86,000 votes.

Gov. David Lawrence, a Democrat, cannot succeed himself under Pennsylvania law.

Seaton, a Hastings publisher who spent eight years in various appointive jobs in the Eisenhower administration, bowled over two opponents by a better than 4-1 margin in the Nebraska Republican primary.

Nebraska Democrats renominated Gov. Frank Morrison. He easily defeated two candidates, including the widow of his predecessor, the late Gov. Ralph G. Brooks.

Maryland voters also picked nominees for the Senate seat being vacated by retiring Sen. John Marshal Butler, a Republican. Democrats gave the nod to Rep. Daniel Brewster while Republicans chose former Rep. Edward T. Miller.

Six incumbent congressmen—five Democrats and a Republican—also won renomination to new terms, and nominees were chosen for the first time for congressman at large. Newton I. Steers, husband of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's step-sister, apparently won the Republican nomination, but the Democratic race was a toss-up between two Maryland legislators, Carlton R. Sickles and Perry O. Wilkinson.

The guests to be honored: Ninth grade — Mitchell Clay, Marcia Cook, Mary Courtright, Karen Dum, Carol Guthrie, Joyce Miller, Patricia Roby, Lucy Vause and Patricia Welsh.

Tenth grade — Patricia Barr, James Beatty, Martha Courtright, Dennis Founds, Yvonne McClurg, Nancy Petty, Bonnie Riegel, and Robert Roof; Eleventh grade — Janet Bausum, Kathy Courtright, Susan George, Samuel Reiney, Terry Reed, Luther Schwalbach, Ellen Snyder and Carol Wylie.

Twelfth grade — Barbara Barch, Beverly Johnson, Robert Kuhlwein, Janet LeMaster, Gladys Little, Sharlene Lowe, Judy Moss, Margaret Shirey and Kathryn Stout.

THE FIVE eighth graders who placed in the upper percentage of the county in the 8th grade tests and also to be honored are Glenn Flierl, George Leatherwood, James Ridenour, James Valentine and James Wills.

The banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. and is open to the public. Reservations may be made by calling the school office.

On Saturday at 6:30 p. m. the Ashville Band Boosters will hold a banquet in honor of all of the Senior Band members. This banquet is open to band members only. Parents are invited to join with the group at 7:30 p. m. for the presentation of awards.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs the past week: May 8 — removed Lena Peterson to Berger Hospital; May 9 — removed Mrs. Franklin Hoover to Doctor's Hospital; May 10 — removed Mrs. Grace Watson to Hedges St., Ashville, to University Hospital; May 12 — returned Mrs. Robert Hoover home from Mercy Hospital and Roy Scott home from Mercy Hospital.

The women faculty members of Ashville School are entertaining the men faculty members to dinner this Wednesday evening at the Pickaway Arms in Circleville.

Tom Bausum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bausum, spent the weekend with his parents. Tom is stationed with the U. S. Navy at Brooklyn, New York. He returned to his base Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. John Morgan have returned home after spending two weeks vacationing in Florida.

THE ASHVILLE School's Future Teachers Association held a potluck dinner Tuesday evening in the park. The senior class also held a carry-in dinner at the school on May 8.

The Junior - Senior Banquet for the students and faculty members of Ashville was held Friday evening in the school auditorium at 6:30 p. m.

The junior mothers prepared the banquet and the junior boys and girls performed an admirable job in transforming the auditorium into a "Wonderland by Night".

The guests entered through an arch into a garden completely enclosed with a false ceiling and walls of blue and white streamers. A garden scene with a running fountain, palm trees, revolving lights and lattice was the center of attraction.

Guests were seated at individual dining tables covered in white linen. The tables were centered with arrangements in white vases and flanked on both sides with white tapers. Girls in beautiful dinner gowns completed the scene.

The Junior Welcome Speech presented by Sonny Roof, class president. A vocal solo was presented by Marilyn Hay followed by The Fates Quest. A Junior Girls Decet sang two selections, "Voice in the Village Choir" and "If You Loved Me". Group singing was then led by Kathy Courtright followed by the Senior Appreciation Speech presented by David Newton, senior class president.

Following the banquet the guests joined with other students from Pickaway County for a dance at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum. An all-night party was held for the seniors by their parents at the Ashville High School. Breakfast was served as the new morning dawned.

Members of the Ashville Methodist Church enjoyed a Family Fellowship Night at the church Sunday evening.

To start the evening several games was enjoyed by the group on the church lawn. The group then retired to the basement where a program was prepared and presented by Mrs. Art Deal.

The program was based on National Christian Family Week, Mother's Day, and in honor of the graduating seniors who have taken part in the church and Sunday school.

The children sang "Our Happy Land, America" and everyone enjoyed singing "M-O-T-H-E-R". Miss Kathy Stout and Miss Ellen Snyder sang a vocal duet, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey was presented a flower for the most living children; Mrs. Stanley Beckett a plant for the oldest mother attending; and Mrs. Taylor Lutz a planter for the youngest mother in attendance.

HONOR was paid to the following seniors: Miss Kathy Stout, Tom Rathburn, Michael Gulick and Ervin Wheller. Miss Beverly Johnson was unable to attend. A tribute "My Church" was paid to them by Benis Lutz. Lowell Ridenour, Sunday School superintendent, presented the seniors with bibles, a gift of the Sunday School.

The program closed with the singing of the hymn "Happy the Home". Each mother present was presented a carnation upon arriving.

The honored guests, followed by the rest of the group, was served punch and cake from a beautiful decorated tea table centered with a large arrangement of lilacs and orchid tulips and orchid candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. Lowell Ridenour and Mrs. E. R. Gregg assisted Mrs. Deal with the arrangements.

This was the last of the Sunday Night Fellowships until September.

OSP Graduation Set Tomorrow

Among the 32 graduates is J.M. Dodd, Columbus, who received much of his dispatcher's training at Circleville Post No. 65. Dodd will be assigned at the local post trainee until he is appointed as regular patrolman.

Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds will administer the oath of office. The main address will be given by Columbus Police Chief George W. Scholer.

A reception for the new patrolmen and members of their families will be held in the East Auditorium of the Youth Center following graduation ceremonies.

Roaming Bedouins May 'Stay Put'

A Bedouin girl gets a medical shot.

By ERIC PATTERSON
Central Press Association
Correspondent

BEERSHEBA, Israel — Desert nomads who have roamed the wilderness almost ever since Eve ate the apple, are currently experiencing a "new look" in Israel.

Under a sweeping program, inaugurated by the Israeli government, the future of the perennial roamers, whose endless roaming has been compared to the sands of the desert, is changing. In a series of experiments, which could spread to Asian and African countries, Israel is getting the nomad to settle down at long last.

The idea is to convert the Arab Bedouin into a productive, stable element.

In one program alone, 1,000 of the tribesmen are being shifted from Israel's Negev Desert to permanent re-settlement in Israel's interior. There, permanent housing is provided.

Fields and crops are also allocated to the Bedouin, which will both enhance their economic status and fit into the country's general agricultural program.

Coaxing the Bedouin to give up their hereditary roaming freedom sometimes proves difficult. When Israeli authorities on one occasion tried to tempt the Bedouin out of their tents by inviting tribe leaders to spend the night in a modern hotel, startled government officials walked into the Bedouin bedroom next morning to find beds still made and the tribesmen stretched out on the floor.

"We are more comfortable that way," an embarrassed chief told an official.

However, these and other obstacles are slowly being overcome, and the vanguard of an estimated 20,000 Negev Desert Bedouin have already adjusted themselves to permanent homes.

As the plan proceeds Israeli authorities are modernizing conditions for the Negev Bedouin to switch over to permanent status. Mobile health units now criss-cross the desert; education courses are being introduced, and even pony express - type mail services will now deliver letters to the front flap of the wandering Bedouin still camping out in the desert.

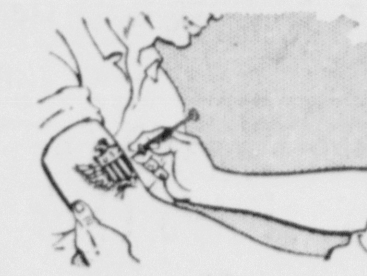

"In many areas, the land has been robbed of its resources and abandoned to the wrath of the elements," Lausche said.

"There are large areas in Ohio and other states where, as a result of stripping operations, public highways have suffered severe damage by reason of slippage; streams, lakes and wells have been polluted; wildlife cover has been destroyed, and, finally, the entire areas themselves have been virtual wasteland."

Lausche said the study would enable Congress and the states to determine how "to restore to usefulness these ever-growing numbers of acres of desolation."

Lausche said when he was governor of Ohio almost insurmountable opposition prevented him from writing stricter conservation measures into state law, although a measure was finally pushed through to require strip mine operators to level spoiled banks and plant grass and trees.

Tattoos Hard To Remove

Q. How can a tattoo be removed?

A. Removal of a tattoo is difficult and disfiguring because the only sure method requires surgery and, usually, skin grafting. Tattooing may be on the way out. The tattoo parlors of New York City have been closed by the Health Department. There is a sound medical reason for this move. About one or two persons of every thousand tattooed develop viral hepatitis. The disease is passed along from infected persons via dirty tattooing needles. Other cities may follow New York's example in prohibiting this ancient craft which thrives in the seaports throughout the world.

Homogenized Milk

Q. What advantages has homogenized milk over plain milk?

A. The butter fat and vitamin D in homogenized milk is more evenly distributed and more efficiently digested, especially by infants and young children. Homogenizing also improves the flavor of milk.

Business Nurses Urge to Merge

NEW YORK (AP)—The urge to merge continues to change the makeup of the nation's business setup.

In retailing, transportation, publishing, banking, manufacturing, and a dozen other fields the movement spreads as a means of achieving savings, promoting efficiency, and a branching into new and important fields.

Some companies grasp the merger as a ready-made tool for diversification, as when Ford Motor Co. acquired Philco to branch out into electronics and space work.

Government trust-busters now and then claim to detect other motives, as in banking where they clamped down—or tried to—on courtships among giants with smaller competitors.

Nowhere is the ferment more striking than in public transportation, where financially ailing carriers are striving to redraw the nation's railroad and airline map.

Some rail leaders foresee a day not far distant when the 106 major roads will be regrouped into less than a dozen mighty regional systems—unless the government turns thumbs down.

In regulated transportation, where federal agencies have the final say-so, the wave of mergers, long gathering, is getting down to the brass tacks stage.

Hearings opened in Washington last Thursday on proposed union of American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines, second and fourth ranking among long distance domestic carriers.

If they are permitted to join, rival lines—watching in the wings, and sizing each other up as prospective partners—are to crystallize a new sheaf of proposals.

In a few months, the Pennsylvania and New York central railroads, first and third largest, similarly will go to bat on joining into a $5 billion, 20,000-mile Go-liath.

The rail industry, bedeviled lately as no other by shrinking profits, got a long head start on the airlines. Fifteen of the country's 20 biggest income roads are involved now in merger plans.

Generally leading the fight against the mergers are labor unions fearing loss of jobs; Justice Department and congressional anti-monopoly watchdogs and cities or freight shippers apprehensive about dilution of service.

Erie Waterway Arguments Heard

WASHINGTON (AP) — A. S. Glossbrenner, president of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., has urged Congress to provide funds to begin immediate construction of the proposed Lake Erie Waterway.

Glossbrenner appeared Monday before the House Appropriations Subcommittee in support of the $200,000 budget item to complete a study of the proposed canal.

He said: "It is my personal opinion that this project could be started promptly by the Corps of Army Engineers if your committee were satisfied with the adequacy of the legal authority presently existing for the project."

"I do not think a new authorization by Congress is necessary to get the project under construction," Glossbrenner said.

Glossbrenner said Congress, in the 1935 Rivers and Harbors Act, authorized a 25-mile leg of the proposed 105-mile canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio River, from Rochester, Pa., to Struthers, Ohio.

"It is my contention that the first 35 miles of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Waterway is now authorized and that the second portion from Struthers, Ohio, to Ashtabula, Ohio, a distance of some 65 miles, is conditionally authorized," Glossbrenner asserted.

He said conditional authorization is contained in the language of the same 1935 act which authorizes continuance of the canal to the Ashtabula area "subject to the final approval of the whole project . . . by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors."

Glossbrenner urged the subcommittee to "pass a proper resolution requesting a legal opinion of your counsel for your future use in considering the legal status of this project."

The proposed canal would serve the Pittsburgh-Youngstown-Cleveland industrial complex.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, a strong backer of the proposed canal, is chairman of the subcommittee that heard Glossbrenner's testimony.

John C. Bane of Pittsburgh, an attorney for the Upper Ohio Valley Association, testified in opposition to the project. The association is made up primarily of railroad interests.

Glossbrenner said, "The steel industry of the United States has invested, on the average, more than $1 billion in each of the last 10 years in new steelmaking equipment" and that the cost of transportation is important in determining where to locate new steel facilities.

He said Congress has "provided water transportation for most steel producing areas in the United States," and that "water transportation has brought employment and prosperity to the people . . . You owe equal treatment to areas which are now without the advantages of water transportation."

Bane said his organization is very much against the canal but is "very strongly in favor of this survey . . . because we think the survey will show the canal should not be built."

A $280,000 appropriation was previously made for the survey. The requested $220,000 for fiscal 1963 would complete the survey.

Bane said, "The canal would cost $1 billion, and for less than one-tenth of that the government could build a railroad and operate it free and carry more tonnage than the canal can carry." The canal proposal, he said, "is just to use public money to subsidize steel mills in the Youngstown area and would injure every other steel center."

Born in Abe's Cabin

HODGENVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ivy Davenport, 72, was born in the same log cabin as Abraham Lincoln, the last person to be born there.

The cabin, now enclosed as a memorial, is located at Hodgenville, just south of Louisville.

"Lincoln and I had some things in common," Davenport says. "Besides being born of poor parents, we lost our mothers at about 10 1/2 years of age and we both had little formal education."

But there, he says, the similarities end.

"I'm just an ordinary country boy and I've lived just an ordinary life," he says. "Abe studied, while fellows like me played."

Davenport is a maintenance man at Hodgenville Elementary School and has spent most of his life in the area.

His parents lived in the Lincoln cabin 19 years and left when Davenport was 5 years old. He still remembers corn-shuck mattresses, meals prepared over an open fireplace, beds fitted into the wall by pegs and cramped conditions of the 16-by-18 foot cabin.

Polynesian Holiday Is Theme Of LE Junior-Senior Banquet

Preceding the All County Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening, the Juniors, Seniors, faculty members and guests of Logan Elm High School enjoyed a "Polynesian Holiday" at the school.

The occasion was the Junior-Senior Banquet. As guests arrived, they entered through a path of crossed spears, shields and palm trees.

The theme was carried out in the foyer by the use of a stone waterfall, Tiki god and green palms. "Tropical Dream" a fruit punch, was served to all the guests from a bamboo bar covered with Polynesian cloth.

Guests entered the cafeteria through a bamboo curtain into a candle light room decorated with an authentic bamboo hut with thatched roof. The mylar-covered ceiling was centered with a shrimp trap filled with colorful starfish and glass weights with Polynesian flower ropes draped to the corners of the room.

Tables where guests were seated were arranged in a deep ellipse around a pond containing Polynesian floating flowers.

Mothers of junior class members served a steak dinner to all attending. They wore leis and flowers in their hair.

The program consisted of a welcome by Sharon Lauerman; senior response by Dick Dean; the class prophecy by Robert Parker; and the class will by Sandra Grissom.

A Polynesian Melody was presented by Terry Anderson, Susan Blue and Jim Harrel accompanied at the piano by Leola Harmon.

George McDowell, county superintendent of schools, presented "Ideals of the Isles".

Following the dance at the coliseum, the juniors, seniors and their guests returned to the school for a movie and breakfast.

NEW YORK (AP)—A research firm recently took a poll of 1,400 parents and found that almost 40 per cent punish their children under 13 by forbidding them to watch television.

This fairly new weapon in a parent's armory now is second only to the old fashioned spanking. Apparently it has been found more effective than scoldings, banishment to rooms or withholding allowances.

As a matter of fact, television has grown rapidly into a tool of many uses quite apart from its value as an entertainment or time-killing medium for adults.

Programs can be used effectively to slip gracefully out of awkward situations: "I'd love to come, Lorna, to see the movies of your trip through Yellowstone, but the Mets are playing the Pirates—and you know Charlie and his baseball."

It provides entertainment for the children on rainy days; permits the adults to have some uninterrupted conversation while the kids are quiet and happy in another room, and—perhaps most important—is more efficient than a sleeping pill if the viewer is in a comfortable prone position.

So television, in spite of all the attacks on it recently, isn't all bad. A lot of us who watch it consistently can also vouch that much of it is entertaining and sometimes even stimulating.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 (EDT); Dennis Weaver, who plays Chester in "Gunsmoke" is the guest star; "The Other Woman," CBS, 10-11—Steel Hour drama with Jeanne Crain and Lloyd Bochner.

DEAR ABBY: If you want to do your readers a big favor, please print my story: I quit a wonderful job and flew to Reno, Nevada, to divorce my wife. I set up a six weeks' residency thinking that was all I needed. My wife flew to Reno to contest the divorce. I had to pay for her first-class jet fare and all her expenses. I have spent up in the thousands and still no divorce. Tell those who think it is easy to get a divorce in Reno to save their money and stay home unless they have an agreement before they go.

J.J.: Your story chokes me up. If more married people would spend as much money, time and energy on making their marriages work, as they do on trying

United Church Of Christ Eyes New Plan

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A proposal to organize the new United Church of Christ in Ohio into a statewide conference, with five smaller area associations, was outlined Tuesday night to leaders of the two churches involved.

The proposed organization would replace the present Ohio Conference of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The two denominations were merged nationally when the United Church of Christ constitution was declared effective last year.

The proposed state organization would have a president, to be elected for an indefinite term, plus moderator, vice moderator, secretary and treasurer. Either moderator or vice moderator would be a layman, with the others probably clergymen. Each officer would serve one year.

Also brought out at the meeting were procedures by which an area association would ordain and recognize and call a minister to a pulpit.

The Rev. Hebert Van Meter of Kent said the proposals will be studied for possible revision and the separate church odies will vote on them next spring.

The Evangelical and Reformed Church now has 34 churches in Ohio, the Congregational churches, 323.

At an earlier session, the Rev. Erston M. Butterfield of Berea was elected minister and superintendent of the Ohio Conference of Congregational Christian Churches.

A covered wagon, still defying time. New canvas has been fitted over its old frame, but the wagon itself is stout and hardy, after nearly two centuries!

Covered Wagon American Symbol

By GROVER BRINKMAN
Central Press Association
Correspondent

JEROME, Ariz. — There it was, rotting in the sun, in a little grove of cottonwoods near this famous "Old West" ghost town.

Nearly two centuries had passed. But it still was in fair shape, the frame and wheels intact — the skeleton of a large wagon, still too fine to die. Someone had stretched new canvas over its ancient hickory bows, evidently for use in a sheep camp.

This was the "Wonder Wagon" of the Dutch, first made in the famed Coestoga Valley of Pennsylvania. Today, on your TV, on your movie screen, they are called simply covered wagons, or prairie schooners. But its real name is Coestoga wagon.

It is symbolic of our nation's growth. Possibly more Bibles were carried westward in this vehicle than in any other manner.

If it hadn't been for this giant, 17-foot-long vehicle, with its wide wheels and billowing canvas, our Western frontier, perhaps, would have been unconquered for another century or more. It is, at least, as symbolic as our Liberty Bell. Our treasured bell, remember, was cast in England; but the Coestoga wagon was born in America. It's typically American — every piece of wood, even the iron and canvas, and the axle grease used on its hubs.

The farmers of the Coestoga Valley were quite religious; they hated waste. Yet much of their food and produce was wasted for want of a market. But roads were so perilous trips were discouraged.

So the Dutch farmers built a new type of wagon — stronger, bigger, water-tight, so it could ford streams. They had their own sawmills, their own forges. It had to carry a load equivalent to 35 barrels of flour and its cargo had to be protected from the weather.

The resultant wagon, born after much praying and figuring, was the Coestoga, so huge it needed six strong horses to move it under full load.

Its massive wheels were rimmed with iron. It was covered with iron. It was covered with snowy canvas stretched over hickory bows.

The date was 1757. Soon the wagons were bumping over the cobblestones of the Quaker markets. Philadelphians were eating as they

Frankfurter's Return Seen

Ailing Justice Due
Back on Job in Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The betting among friends of Felix Frankfurter is that—barring some turn now unforeseen—the peppy judge will bounce back and take his seat on the Supreme Court again next Oct. 1.

The jurist, 79, is still at George Washington University Hospital, where he was taken April 5 after suffering what his physician called a brief interruption in normal blood flow to the brain.

The physician, Dr. George A. Kelsor Jr., said Monday that Frankfurter was "doing well." A friend of the justice went further and said "he is showing amazing progress."

"It's going to take more than this illness to keep the justice down," another friend said.

Frankfurter has been receiving some friends in his hospital room and his long-crippled wife, the former Marion A. Denman of Springfield, Mass., has been taken in a wheelchair to see her husband.

Mrs. Frankfurter was stricken by arthritis more than eight years ago and requires around-the-clock care at the Frankfurter home in the Georgetown section of Washington.

The day after Frankfurter collapsed at his desk in the Supreme Court building it was announced that he would remain at the hospital "for a short period of rest." Asked if he had not stayed longer than expected, a friend suggested that since Mrs. Frankfurter was unable to care for him, it was considered better for the justice to complete his recuperation at the hospital.

Frankfurter is reported to be frequently out of bed, handling some of his stacks of correspondence, making phone calls and otherwise displaying more than a trace of his legendary energy.

Frankfurter does not plan to return to the bench this term, which is now nearly over. But the next term, beginning Oct. 1, is another thing.

Today, there are stretches of the old Santa Fe trail still visible, delicacies in the earth made by those passing wheels.

Americans have tried for centuries to tell the story of these old wagons. It is a wonderful story, and it never will die.

MORE GLAMOR — Getting sick is a lot more glamorous now than in the last century, this comparison of the old and new nurse uniforms shows at National Hospital Week openhouse in Fairview Park Hospital, Cleveland. Nurse Mrs. Grace C. Gudaitas wears the 1800's variety, and Nurse Mrs. Constance Stuppig the modern.

Economic 'Pause' Believed Over Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, says the early 1962 economic pause is over and a sustained advance can be expected well into 1963.

"It is clear that the economy has shifted into a higher gear," he told the State Society of Certified Public Accountants Monday.

Heller said he had no real explanation for the recent weakness in stock market prices.

Corporate earnings in the first three months of 1962, he said, generally exceeded levels predicted six months ago.

More than 58 million people have visited the Lincoln Memorial in Washington D. C. since its opening in 1922.

Boys Go Home, Refused Tuck In Shirttails

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Four boys at Vinson High School went home Tuesday after being given the choice of tucking in their shirttails or leaving school.

Monday, two eighth-grade boys left after being given the same choice, but were back in school Tuesday, Principal Wayne B. Curry said.

"They were given one or two opportunities of putting their shirt tails in or leaving school," Curry said. "It's just that we think that they ought to look as nice and as well-groomed as possible. It's not an infringement on their personal privileges—it was their choice."

The mother of one of the boys, Mrs. Floyd T. Avis, of Huntington, said her son, Ricky, "will not go back to school with his shirt-tail tucked in. He is wearing a sports shirt which is designed to have the tail worn out-side his trousers."

"As long as my son is clean and neat, it is none of their (school officials) business how he wears his shirt or how he combs his hair."

Curry said the school was objecting only to dress-type shirts with their long tails worn out-side.

Eichmann Judgment To Be Heard May 29

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The Supreme Court will deliver judgment on the appeal of Adolf Eichmann May 29, an official announcement said today.

The former Gestapo colonel was sentenced to death for his part in the Nazi regime's murder of Jews. The Jerusalem District Court passed the sentence last Dec. 15. The Supreme Court heard Eichmann's appeal in March.

Europe Entry In Space Field Said Coming

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—An international space conference of Western experts was told today that Western Europe's entry into the field is "only a question of the way in which we should do it and at what expense."

"It would be foolish to leave the whole field of space to Russia and America," a German scientific expert told the conference, convened in this coastal town by the American Assembly of Columbia University.

"It is not a question of whether or not Europe should go into the field. We are going in."

The United States urged at the opening session that Western Europe shelve the plan and join the U.S. program.

Seventy delegates from 11 nations have been told here of Western European plans for 474 rocket and satellite launchings over an eight-year period. There would be an attempt to put up a lunar satellite by 1970.

Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Spain, Belgium, Denmark and Austria are the nations principally involved in the embryonic European program.

I. R. WITTHUHN, MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, President of Kiwanis International (right) presents the official charter to Paul H. Huntzinger (left), President of the organization's 5000th club—South Muncie, Indiana. Center left, Harry A. Young, Detroit, Michigan, last living founder of Kiwanis. Center right: D. Dean Rhoads, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Governor of the Indiana Kiwanis District. Chartering of the 5000th Kiwanis club, a high point in the organization's 47 year history, took place at special ceremonies, Monday evening, April 30, at Ball State College Student Center, Muncie, Indiana.

5000th U.S. Kiwanis Club Chartered in Muncie, Ind.

Kiwanis club number 5000 has received its charter in Muncie, Indiana, according to word received here by Truman Eberly, President of the Kiwanis Club of Circleville.

The charter was presented to the new Kiwanis Club of South Muncie by Kiwanis International President I. R. Witthuhn of Milwaukee.

Witthuhn characterized the event as "the attainment of another Kiwanis' 47 year history of growth and progress."

He said that the circumstance of the Kiwanis Club of South Muncie receiving the number 5000 was a mathematical happenstance. He characterized it, however, as "a happy coincidence because Muncie, home of the 5000th club, was once selected as the most typical of American communities for a now classic sociological study called 'Middletown'."

"That the 5000th Kiwanis club should be established here," he said, "proves that the most typical of American institutions, the service club, is today more vital than ever in the life of the typical American community — Muncie, Indiana."

Nearly 600 people attended the special 5000th club chartering ceremonies, held in the Ball State College Student Center in Muncie. Included on the program were Harry A. Young, Detroit, Michigan, last living founder of Kiwanis; H. Lloyd Fawcett, Hamilton, Ontario, representing the first Kiwanis club to be organized in Canada (Hamilton, 1916); Clum Bucher, Bloomington, Indiana, Trustee of Kiwanis International; D. Dean Rhoads, Fort Wayne, Governor of the Indiana Kiwanis District; and O. E. Peterson, Chicago, Secretary of Kiwanis International.

In accepting the charter, Paul B. Huntzinger, president of the

Europe Entry In Space Field Said Coming

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—An international space conference of Western experts was told today that Western Europe's entry into the field is "only a question of the way in which we should do it and at what expense."

"It would be foolish to leave the whole field of space to Russia and America," a German scientific expert told the conference, convened in this coastal town by the American Assembly of Columbia University.

"It is not a question of whether or not Europe should go into the field. We are going in."

The United States urged at the opening session that Western Europe shelve the plan and join the U.S. program.

Seventy delegates from 11 nations have been told here of Western European plans for 474 rocket and satellite launchings over an eight-year period. There would be an attempt to put up a lunar satellite by 1970.

Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Spain, Belgium, Denmark and Austria are the nations principally involved in the embryonic European program.

Chartering of the 5000th Kiwanis club, a high point in the organization's 47 year history, took place at special ceremonies, Monday evening, April 30, at Ball State College Student Center, Muncie, Indiana.

5000th U.S. Kiwanis Club Chartered in Muncie, Ind.

Kiwanis club number 5000 has received its charter in Muncie, Indiana, according to word received here by Truman Eberly, President of the Kiwanis Club of Circleville.

The charter was presented to the new Kiwanis Club of South Muncie by Kiwanis International President I. R. Witthuhn of Milwaukee.

Witthuhn characterized the event as "the attainment of another Kiwanis' 47 year history of growth and progress."

He said that the circumstance of the Kiwanis Club of South Muncie receiving the number 5000 was a mathematical happenstance. He characterized it, however, as "a happy coincidence because Muncie, home of the 5000th club, was once selected as the most typical of American communities for a now classic sociological study called 'Middletown'."

"That the 5000th Kiwanis club should be established here," he said, "proves that the most typical of American institutions, the service club, is today more vital than ever in the life of the typical American community — Muncie, Indiana."

Nearly 600 people attended the special 5000th club chartering ceremonies, held in the Ball State College Student Center in Muncie.

Included on the program were Harry A. Young, Detroit, Michigan, last living founder of Kiwanis; H. Lloyd Fawcett, Hamilton, Ontario, representing the first Kiwanis club to be organized in Canada (Hamilton, 1916); Clum Bucher, Bloomington, Indiana, Trustee of Kiwanis International; D. Dean Rhoads, Fort Wayne, Governor of the Indiana Kiwanis District; and O. E. Peterson, Chicago, Secretary of Kiwanis International.

In accepting the charter, Paul B. Huntzinger, president of the

Circleville Thinclads Top Pleasant View in Dual Meet

The Circleville High School track team downed Pleasant View 79-44, in a dual meet on the losers' track yesterday.

The Tiger cindermen dominated the meet, taking first and second in both hurdles events and in the 100-yard dash. The local thinclads grabbed 11 firsts and placed men in every event.

Vern Reichmanus turned in his usual stellar performance in the weight events, taking first with a toss of 45'10" in the shot and flinging the discus 128'4" to top the field.

George Trego easily outjumped his closest rival in the high jump as he cleared the bar at 5'8".

Skip Hansen headed the field in the dashes, taking the 100 in 10.6 and the 220 in 23.3.

FRESHMAN Jimmie Wood turned in the top performances of the day. He led the field in the 180 low hurdles and the 120 high hurdles. In the broad jump he leaped 18'11" for first, and he ran on the winning 880 yard relay team.

John Current, Tiger cinder coach, said yesterday's winning 880 relay team will be the one he will go with in the district meet slated for Friday and Saturday at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware.

According to Current, the team is steadily improving. Although Circleville is given little chance of taking the district meet, the Tiger mentor said his thinclads should place at least in the top eight, if they turn in the performances of which they are capable.

Shasteen won the 440 in 57.4. According to the Pleasant View track coach, this time is comparable to about 54 second performance on a good track.

The Track at Pleasant View is a new oval. The cinders are loose and the track is soft, handicapping the runners considerably.

The preliminaries for the class AA Central District meet will start at 2 p. m. Friday with the finals due to get under way Saturday on the OWU oval at Delaware.

AAU Claims Ohio Relays Used as Bait

NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union refused today to rise to the bait dangled by the National Collegiate Athletic Association in the first head-on test of the two organizations in their struggle for control of amateur sports.

Sources said the AAU headquarters here would not press for blanket suspension of 11 college track athletes who competed in the Ohio Relays last month. Here were indications that the suspension of the runners by the Indiana AAU was only "temporary." One has already been reinstated.

"We are not in the business of trying to make every one ineligible," an AAU spokesman said here. "We are in the business of promoting competition."

The spokesman also said the athletes involved "suspended themselves" by running in the relays, which are not sanctioned by the AAU. He said, however, that "these kids are pawns in a power struggle, and we are not going to let them wreck their careers in a struggle like that."

The NCAA deliberately courted the suspensions, as part of its campaign to organize a track and field federation that would take over control of that sport from the AAU.

Walter Byers, executive director of the college group, said that the Ohio meet was deliberately run without sanction.

Buffalo Pitcher Masters Virginians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Babe Birrer, Buffalo righthander, has developed into the International League's No. 1 expert on how to cut down the Richmond Virginians.

Last year, Birrer whipped the Virginians three times. This year, his only two victories have been scored at the expense of the Richmond club.

He ran his two-year streak to five over the Vees Tuesday night—a 2-0 shutout. Birrer gave the Vees a half dozen hits.

In other action Tuesday night, Rochester turned back Atlanta 4-2; Jacksonville clobbered Syracuse 14-4 and Toronto halted the Columbus Jets 6-3.

Bernie Allen, who has been starring at second base for the Minnesota Twins, signed last June after graduation and an outstanding athletic career at Purdue University. He's 23 and from East Liverpool, Ohio.

Reds To Give Drabowsky Second Chance

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Moe Drabowsky, fighting for his berth in the major leagues, is to get a chance tonight to show Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds whether the five-hitter he pitched 10 days ago was a fluke.

Hutchinson said he will start Drabowsky (0-3) against the Philadelphia Phillies, who lost the opener of a three-game series with Cincinnati 3-2 Tuesday night.

Drabowsky, in his last appearance, had a shut-out going until Stan Musial broke it up with a ninth-inning home run and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-0 victory at Crosley Field. Drabowsky lost the game, but everybody—including Hutchinson and Musial—praised his pitching.

Jack Hamilton (3-2) was scheduled to oppose Drabowsky tonight as the Reds try to add another triumph to their present five straight victories.

Hard-hitting Vada Pinson got the Cincinnati off to a good start Tuesday night.

With two out in the first inning, Pinson hit a home run—his 12th—into the lower left field stands.

Gordie Coleman started the second with a single to right. The next two Reds were out, but then Elio Cardenas doubled off the scoreboard and Coleman raced home. Cardenas himself scored when Joey Jay popped a single to short center.

American Loop Is Homer Happy

Circleville Drops 2nd League Game

George Reeser was charged with his first loss of the year yesterday when the Circleville Tiger baseball team dropped an 11-3 SCO league game at Wilmington.

The Wilmington nine collected seven runs on four hits and three errors in the fifth inning in downing the Central District bracket champs.

Mitchell led off the frame with a walk. Edwards singled and Dwight Wallace was safe on an error. Vancsey made it to first on a fielders choice, before Roberts bingle.

The next batter popped out to Jimmy Wellington. Mike Wallace hit a sacrifice fly to Freddy Moore in center field and Ewing singled. Then Marvin Gregory, the Wilmington pitcher, blasted a home run that put the game out of reach.

Sam Weller relieved Reeser after Gregory's round tripper.

IN THE 5-2-3 innings that he pitched, Reeser gave up 10 hits, two bases on balls and fanned six. Wilmington scored all its runs off him. His record is now seven wins against a single loss. Weller allowed on hit.

Circleville had three hits — all for extra bases.
The first Tiger tally came in the opening inning when Wellington blasted a triple and then scored on an error. In the third inning Fred-

Gordie Coleman started the second with a single to right. The next two Reds were out, but then Elio Cardenas doubled off the scoreboard and Coleman raced home. Cardenas himself scored when Joey Jay popped a single to short center.

The Track at Pleasant View is a new attraction. The cinders are loose and the track is soft, handicapping the runners considerably.

The preliminaries for the class AA Central District meet will start at 2 p. m. Friday with the finals due to get under way Saturday on the OWU oval at Delaware.

American Loop Is Homer Happy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Homer happy American League batters put on a display of power Tuesday night as they tagged 14 home runs—four shy of the league record for a five-game program.

An additional seven homers were hit on the National League five-game schedule for a grand total of 21.

Rookie John (Boog) Powell of Baltimore and Norm Siebern of Kansas City each connected for a pair of two-run homers in AL games. George Altman of the Chicago Cubs was the only NL hitter to get two. Rookie Denis Menke of Milwaukee hit a grand slam.

Circleville Drops 2nd League Game

George Reeser was charged with his first loss of the year yesterday when the Circleville Tiger baseball team dropped an 11-3 SCO league game at Wilmington.

The Wilmington nine collected seven runs on four hits and three errors in the fifth inning in downing the Central District bracket champs.

Mitchell led off the frame with a walk. Edwards singled and Dwight Wallace was safe on an error. Vanscoy made it to first on a fielders choice, before Roberts bingle.

The next batter popped out to Jimmy Wellington. Mike Wallace hit a sacrifice fly to Freddy Moore in center field and Ewing singled. Then Marvin Gregory, the Wilmington pitcher, blasted a home run that put the game out of reach.

Sam Weller relieved Reeser after Gregory's round tripper.

IN THE 5-2-3 innings that he pitched, Reeser gave up 10 hits, two bases on balls and fanned six. Wilmington scored all its runs off him. His record is now seven wins against a single loss. Weller allowed one hit.

Circleville had three hits—all for extra bases.

The first Tiger tally came in the opening inning when Wellington blasted a triple and then scored on an error. In the third inning Fred-

Tribe Rookie Beaten, but Learns Lesson

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam McDowell, rookie southpaw for the Cleveland Indians, thinks he knows what to do on the mound from now on.

The 19-year-old McDowell was the Indians' last relief pitcher in their 6-5 heartbreaker to Kansas City Tuesday night. Three of the Tribe's five hits were home runs.

Young McDowell faced four batters and struck out three of them in the 1-3 innings he worked for the American League leaders.

"I can't explain it, yet, but I know exactly what to do from now on," McDowell said after the game. He said it was the first time this season he pitched "my regular way—the way I did the last year in the minors."

"Everything fell together—just like a ceramic set," added McDowell.

Starter Jim Perry put himself behind in the first inning by serving a gopher ball to Norm Siebern with one aboard. Siebern tagged Perry for another two-run double in the fourth.

Cleveland got an unearned run in the second and tied it at 4-all on back-to-back roundtrippers by John Romano and Willie Kirkland in the fourth and Chuck Essegian's solo blast in the fifth. The Indians got one more in the ninth on a hit batsman, Bubba Phillips' single, Jerry Kindall's sacrifice and pinch-hitter Al Luplow's sacrifice fly.

40-1 Longshot Wins Feature at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The handful of fans who had put their money on Lex Tass in the featured eighth race at Lebanon Raceway Tuesday night were amply repaid when the 40-1 long shot won in a photo finish.

The 7-year-old brown gelding pulled past Kiss Me Kate in the stretch. He paced the mile in 2:06 and paid $89.80.

Kiss Me Kate returned $6.20 and Matar Pick showed for $6.20.

Only nine players in the National Football League had touchdowns runs of more than 50 yards in 1961.

TAKE PHOTOS ON THE WATER

GOOD STILL and motion pictures of your boating, fishing and swimming fun help you relieve these leisure-time activities long after vacation is over. Taking pictures on the water requires a few more precautions than "dry-land" shooting.

EXPOSURES—Cut down exposures to compensate for the water which acts as a giant reflector. Increase shutter speed or cut down lens opening 1/2 to one stop.

PROTECT EQUIPMENT—Keep film, cameras and other photo equipment away from spray and heat. In a waterproof bag or wrapped in oil skin. Don't aim camera into a stiff, wet breeze.

EXTRA EQUIPMENT—A filter over the lens will dramatize the scene and protect lens from spray. A telescope lens is best for taking water sking photos since, unless you're in another boat, you can only get as close to the skier as the length of the tow rope.

PROTECT YOURSELF—Always take a solid stance before shooting from a boat.

DETROIT (AP) — A former Boston College football star is suing the Detroit Lions of the National Football League for $107,500.

Jim O'Brien, 23, Hamden, Conn., tackle who failed to make the Lion squad in 1960, asked $100,000 in damages and $7,500 in contract pay in a suit filed in U.S. District Court Monday.

The $100,000 is to cover "defamation and slander" which prevented O'Brien from getting another job in football "commensurate with his ability," the suit says.

O'Brien charged the Lions arbitrarily dismissed him after he suffered a dislocated shoulder in an exhibition game with the Cleveland Browns before the start of the regular season that year.

O'Brien's lawyer said he hoped the lawsuit would result in a precedent to protect players in organized pro football. Under NFL contracts, players usually do not get paid until they have made the squad or the regular season has begun.

The Lions in serving notice on O'Brien told him he had failed to "demonstrate sufficient skill and capacity," the lawyer said.

"It is defamed him to the extent that no other team wanted him whereas the truth of the matter was that he was hurt and couldn't play."

Lucas Signs Pro Cage Pact In Cleveland

Pipers, New League Given Shot in Arm By Ohio State Star

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jerry Lucas, three-time All-America from Ohio State who repeatedly said he didn't want to play professional basketball, may have saved pro basketball in Cleveland, and he has given the year-old American Basketball League a shot in the arm.

The 6-8, 225-pound center, who led the Buckeyes to a national championship and two narrow misses, has signed a two-year contract with the Cleveland Pipers of the ABL.

Speculation has arisen that John Havlicek, Ohio State captain and Lucas' teammate for four years, also would accept a contract with the Pipers. Havlicek has been drafted by the Pipers and the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, who believe he would make a fine pass catcher, although he hasn't played football since high school.

With Lucas and Havlicek under contract, the ABL probably would be able to negotiate a national television deal similar to that under which National Basketball Association games are shown. Until now, the ABL didn't have any major personality attractions to interest prospective backers of televised games.

Lucas got a more lucrative offer—reportedly $100,000 and an automobile for a three-year contract—from the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA. His contract with the Pipers, according to Lucas, calls for a salary of about $10,000 a season, plus an investment portfolio worth $40,000.

Lucas said Pipers' president George Steinbrenner persuaded him to change his mind about not playing pro ball. Lucas added: "The Pipers had carefully studied my objections to professional basketball. They came prepared with answers. Mr. Steinbrenner began at once that first day talking about education."

"He said the ABL schedule had been cut to about 70 games—at his suggestion—and would not open until December. Therefore, I could finish school. He offered a two-year contract instead of three. After two years, he said, the club would see that my way was paid through the graduate school of my choice."

He said I wasn't expected to play more than two years. He offered what amounted to a portfolio of stocks and investments that virtually assured me an income for years."

Signing Lucas is a real plum for Steinbrenner, whose Pipers have had a rocky showing at the gate, although they won the league championship last season.

"We're saved," said Steinbrenner Tuesday night when asked what effect Lucas would have on attendance. "If he can't draw them to the games nobody can."

Lucas is the first highly publicized draftee to pick the ABL, which is competing with the established NBA's prestige and money for players.

has catapulted them to the top perch in the National League, the Giants hopped on Curt Simmons and whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3 Tuesday night for their 16th victory in the last 19 games.

It also was the ninth consecutive triumph and the 15th in 17 games at home for the Giants, who apparently have learned to cope with the shifting windy currents in Candlestick Park and made home a paradise.

Billy Pierce posted his fifth win without a loss as San Francisco held its four-game edge over second-place Los Angeles and pushed the third-place Cardinals six back. The Dodgers used a six-run seventh inning outburst to subdue Houston 10-7.

Cincinnati's defending champion Reds won their fifth in a row and the 10th in 12 games by beating Philadelphia 3-2. Pittsburgh broke a six-game losing streak with a 5-4, 10-inning decision over Milwaukee and the New York Mets outlasted the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 13 innings.

Simmons (5-1), who last week became the first pitcher to throw a complete game at the Giants, was bombed for six runs in three innings and that was it as Pierce scattered nine hits until he tired and needed Stu Miller's help in the eighth inning. The decisive runs scored in a three-run third on a double by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda's single and doubles by Felipe Alou and Jim Davenport, the last off reliever Ray Washburn.

Shortstop Maury Wills drove in four runs for the Dodgers, knocking in the go-ahead run in that wild seventh with a single after pinch hitter Doug Camilli had singled and the tying tally. Trailing 7-4 with two out in the inning, the Dodgers erupted for six hits and a half dozen runs that kayoed Colts starter Bob Bruce. Larry Sherry (2-1) picked up the win in relief while Bob Tiefenauer was charged with the loss.

The Reds got away in front on home run No. 12 by Vada Pinson in the first, then put it away with two runs in the second as Leo Cardenas' double and a single by winning pitcher Joey Jay (5-3) each knocked in a run. That made Art Mahaffey (2-5) a loser for the fifth consecutive time.

Dick Groat drove in the tying run for the Pirates with a single in the seventh, then singled and scored the winner in the 10th on a two-out single by Smoky Burgess off Jack Curtis (1-3). Harvey

Deer Thinclads Slated To Enter District Meet

Glenn Chester, track coach at Williamsport High School, announced that six cindermen from the school will compete in the class A Central District track meet at Ohio Wesleyan University this week.

Frank Lugenbeel will run the mile for the local track team. Rick Fenstermaker and Bruce Willis will try out for the 100 and 440 yard dashes. Willis will also be entered in the pole vault.

Rick Hooks will compete in the 120 high hurdles and in the high jump. Jerry O'Connor will be entered in broad jump and the high jump and Byron Rose will go in both hurdles events.

Preliminaries for the track events will be held Thursday, with finals slated for Saturday.

Bill Ward, track coach of St. John's University at Jamaica, N. Y., will retire as an active coach next fall to devote full time to duties in the athletic department.

Haddix (2-1) won it. Rookie Denis Menke accounted for all the Braves' runs with a grand slam homer in the fourth after Earl Fancis had walked three consecutive batters.

Rookie Cal Koonce walked pinch hitter Hobie Landrith with the bases loaded and two out in the 13th, forcing home Gil Hodges with the winning run for the Mets. George Altman was 4-for-6 with two homers for the Cubs, who replaced the Mets in the cellar.

Nobody's pulling away from anybody in the American League chase—not New York's seemingly invincible Yankees or Cleveland's surprising Indians. Not the way Minnesota, Chicago and Baltimore have been moving.

While Cleveland and New York were being set back Tuesday night, Minnesota knocked off Detroit 4-2 with home run help from Vic Power and Harmon Killebrew, the White Sox nipped Washington 4-3 as Al Smith contributed a vital pinch double, and Baltimore swamped Los Angeles 7-1 behind Milt Pappas' strong pitching.

Ninth-place Kansas City slid by Cleveland 6-5 and Boston rocked New York's shaky pitching for a nine-run outburst in the sixth inning and swamped the Yanks 14-4.

As the tightly bunched race stands now, Cleveland has a one-half game edge on the Yanks, the Twins are just 12 percentage points behind New York, the White Sox are only one game off the pace and the Orioles two. For good measure, the Angels, Tigers and Red Sox are tied for sixth, 3' lengths back, and the ninth-place A's are only five behind.

RVX-2 Space Vehicle

Space Re-Entry Vehicle Due For Display

An actual recovered re-entry vehicle, designated the RVX-2, will be on display at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Armed Forces Day Open House on Saturday and Sunday. The Base is located 11 miles east of Dayton, on Route 444.

Fired in July 1959 on an Atlas missile, the RVX-2 traveled over the full ICBM range and was successfully recovered. It was the largest full-scale, advanced design re-entry vehicle to travel the intercontinental range, and the first of its size to be recovered.

The RVX-2 is about 12 feet tall, five feet in base diameter, weighs more than a ton, and has a sphere-cone configuration. Its recovery package, consisting of a parachute which opened after re-entry and slowed the vehicle sufficiently to survive the impact, and a flotation balloon which inflated and suspended the RVX-2 in the water, was in the aft end of the vehicle. In addition, various locating devices, such as dye markers, radio beacons and strobe lights, were used.

Purpose of the flight was to make full-scale tests of ablation material as protection against heat generated by re-entry. Word has just been received that the General Electric Space Technology Center will also include in its industrial exhibit an earlier re-entry vehicle, the RVX-1, and possibly a mock-up of a later vehicle than the RVX-2.

France occupied Tunisia in 1881. That country gained independence in 1955.

WARD'S MARKET INTERIOR — Ward Skinner, owner of Ward's Royal Blue Market at Main and Scioto Sts., is celebrating his 13th anniversary this week as a grocery store proprietor. One of his promotions this week will be the awarding of an older model "fishing" car loaded with groceries.

Vet Groceryman Ward Skinner Now in 13th Year as Owner

Ward Skinner, owner of Ward's Royal Blue Market, 166 W. Main St., can boast of 20 years in the grocery business, although he is celebrating his 13th anniversary this week.

In 1942 Skinner went to work for Charles Smith, who operated the meat market on E. Main St. for many years. Except for a stint in the service, Skinner has been in the grocery business ever since.

When he returned from duty he went to work for Charles Glitt on S. Court St.

In 1949 he opened his own grocery on the corner of Court and Walnut Sts. He has operated his own business since that time.

IN HIS early operations Skinner employed only his two brothers, Max and Don, who were both in high school. At his present location on W. Main, he has nine full time employees.

The local business man moved to the present store formerly occupied by the A & P super market in December of 1960.

As a promotional stunt during the anniversary sale Skinner has purchased an old car which will be awarded to a customer. It will be filled with groceries.

There will be storewide promotional sales and prizes. He plans to give free kites to the youngsters.

The Nestles Candy Co. will award a rubber boat.
